Later Intelligence from the Ships of the Squadron.

Condition of Affairs at Buenos Ayres—The Character of the Paraguay Difficulty—Replies to Statements on the Subject—The Spanish-American Press—Lopez and His Government, &c.

By the arrival of the brigs T. Cushing and Paladin, we are in receipt of intelligence from Buenos Ayres to the last of January. The following letters of our Correspondents give all the news of interest:

Buenos Ayres, Thursday, Jan. 13, 1858.

The budget of news which I have been enabled to acquire since my last, about the movements of our Squadron en route for Paraguay, is not of much importance. The 7th inst. saw the steamers Fulton, Harriet Lane and Water Witch, still taking in coal at Rosario; whilst the brigs Dolphin, Perry and Bainbridge, which they had towed as far as that City, had made sail by themselves far up the river to Corrientes. The Harriet Lane and Water Witch will overhaul and tow up the three, while the Fulton will proceed to Asuncion without delay. She expects to arrive there on the 18th inst., unless interfered with by the fortifications of Lopez after she enters the Paraguay River. The transport Release has arrived, and passed up the river to Rosario. The sloop-of-war Preble also arrived at Monte Video last week, and it is probable at this writing that the steamers Westernport and Southern Star have also made that port in safety.

We have been informed by the late papers, that Lieutenant James H. Moore has been ordered as Executive Officer to the chartered steamer Metacomet, at Pensacola. This is a piece of intelligence most gratifying to us, because Lieutenant Moore endeared himself to all men of principle and patriotism in these countries while Executive Officer of the steamer Water Witch at Asuncion, in 1854, and by the noble stand which he took in favor of his outraged and defrauded countrymen. They were well convinced that, had it not been for him, they would have had a hard time of it in the clutches of Lopez. And we improve the first opportunity to praise his gallantry and generosity, because his name, in connection with that affair has been kept studiously out of sight by those who wished to arrogate to themselves the credit of an action which was forced upon them most unwillingly by the determination of the noble Moore. The cause why, and the manner in which he left the Water Witch at Corrientes, as soon as his countrymen were placed in safety, may yet see the light, when the true history of this most extraordinary affair shall be written.

The Ordnance Department of the Navy committed a great blunder before the sailing of the Fulton and the transport Supply. The Supply brought out the 11-inch gun of the Fulton, but left the carriage behind, so that it is now useless They telegraphed to the Fulton that the Supply had it on board, and to the Supply, at New-York, that the Fulton had it with her. In such wise, unless the mistake has been rectified by the Release—of which we are ignorant—that magnificent gun will be useless in case of a fight.

I see it is maintained by one of your New-York cotemporaries that we have no right to a treaty with Paraguay, nor yet to satisfaction for the firing upon the Water Witch. We have an equitable right to a treaty with Paraguay, because she has treaties with other civilized nations, our competitors in the commerce and manufactures of the world. Modern diplomacy is not, cannot be exclusive. But we have an undoubted and clear moral right to force a treaty on Lopez of Paraguay, because he signed and ratified one with us on the same day he did also with England, France and Sardinia, the ratifications of which treaty he refused to exchange, because he had meantime become afraid of the productive energy and civilizing tendencies of the Americans; and has since demanded from us satisfaction to him for the outrages and robberies which he himself had put upon our countrymen!! In reference to the act of firing upon the Water Witch, the American Government is again in the right to demand the most explicit apologies, because she was in a river which is the common highway to at least two different nations, not to mention Brazil, and was there by virtue of treaty law which has opened the river to all flags, and with the express permission of one of its owners, the Argentine Confederation, to take surveys of the said river. When, therefore, a river is conterminous and common to two or more powers it is so from shore to shore. Neither one has a right to fortify it or to establish an exclusive police over any part of it. That Lopez has done so with both the Paraguay and Parana Rivers, does not make it right; that his forts have not been long ago knocked down about his ears, is because his neighbors are too weak, save Brazil, and she is rejoiced at the continuance of disunion among the others, which is caused by her own intrigues. Again, no matter whether the Water Witch was where she had no right to be or not, she had been in the waters of Paraguay for more than a year; her peaceful character was well-known, and permission for her surveys had also been given her by Lopez, which he withdrew, because in a work of humanity and necessity she had saved some of her countrymen, including an American Consul, from imprisonment and perhaps death. She was fired upon by order of Lopez, in revenge for this act. Who then shall say that we must submit to it? None save those blinded by the bitterness of party strife, which makes them see all things belonging to their opponents, "through a glass darkly."

Again, if we do not treat with Lopez, we debar ourselves forever in favor of the English, of all connection with the trade or development of Paraguay, to which we have a right by priority over all other civilized or commercial nations; because Americans were the first to go there after the fall of the tyrant Rosas, and the first to sign treaties with the Argentine Confederation for the free navigation of the rivers. We are thus the godfathers of this free navigation, of which we have been completely deprived by the arbitrary acts of one man—Lopez, of Paraguay—who wants it exclusively for himself, but yet sends to England for all his machinery and mechanics.

Buenos Ayres, Monday, Jan. 17, 1859.

The Argentine Press, as may be naturally supposed, is a perfect type of the condition of the country. There is any quantity of shouting about Liberty, Constitutional Government, Pacific Reform, &c., &c., but very little of any of them to be seen, while, as I before mentioned, gross personalities and grosser language, for the most part, take the place of reason or persuasion, and in every sentence you meet with the words infame, infamias, traidor, mentiroso, mashorquero, degollados, asesino, &c., &c. In fact, we are reminded of pot calling the kettle black, or of two schoolboys, for when one calls his fellow a liar, he gets the reply, "You're another." There is neither dignity, nor knowledge, nor true patriotism, nor yet—which is worse than all—any desire to be taught or to learn. These people, although in their youth, have none of its freshness; they have lost the feelings of admiration and veneration, whose destruction, as Arnold, the historian, says, is the worst degradation of human nature. Respect for Providence, respect for the laws, respect for the aged, respect for the judgment of the good and the wise, are replaced by superstition, an untold license, which they call liberty, and general contempt for all things, except the indulgence of their idol, "the vilest of all, their own single pleasure or pride."

So much for the editorial part of the press. The rest of their papers are made up of city items and Government documents, with an occasional correspondence from Europe, and a folletin of novelettes. Nothing can be more puerile and ridiculous than the two or three columns habitually devoted to city items. A perusal of them is alone sufficient to prove that the human mind here has not yet emerged from the cocoon of puberty, and to make us fear that if it ever does nothing will be produced but a butterfly The publication of the Government documents is not only made by a periodical established for that purpose, called the Registro del Gobierno, but they are eagerly copied in extenso by all the other papers as a fortunate wind fall to enable them to fill up space, which would otherwise cost brain-labor and money. These published documents consist of the entirety of the Government business; every petty note from the Collector of the Customs, or the director of a poorhouse, all nominations to, and acceptance or resignation of office, which always abound in fulsome adulation on the one side, and a remarkable amount of self-determination on the other; also, every note which every postmaster may write about the most trivial thing, to which are appended the opinions thereon of the fiscal and after him of the asesor, a species of officers which most nearly resemble your district and general attorneys. This absurd publicity, which is the rule with Spanish-American Governments, never yet contributed to honesty or prevented fraud. In fact it has rather the contrary effect; to blind investigation. Moreover, it requires as copyists a quantity of clerks and employes—starvelings, useless to themselves and to society—whose pay can barely support them, and whose knowledge and ambition are both equal to Zero. There is probably no administration in the world that retains such a large number of them; a fact which operates also in a most natural method against the dispatch of business, for light work gives lazy habits. Thus these young gentlemen must go to the cafés and theatres, and consequently never appear in their business offices before noon or later.

The official newspaper, Nacional Argentino, of the Government at Parana, is now occupied in republishing all the libelous and scurrilous articles of Lopez's newspaper in Paraguay, the Semanario, in reference to the difficulties with the Americans. This precious series goes back to 1854, and still continues in the original, with more force of vituperation than ever—including, at present, as I before informed you, our President and the Senate of the United States, who are coolly called robbers and liars. It is folly for the Argentine Government to say that this Press is free, when it is the Government paper, founded and supported by a subsidy, and edited always by the Chie Clerk of the Department of Foreign Affairs. This conduct must be grateful incense to Mr. Yancey, our newly accredited Minister to Urquiza. It will assuredly help him to learn the quality of the people he has to deal with.

For the rest, the Spanish-American Press is bound up in European prejudices, and stubborn in refusing to link itself closer to us. It is true that it is the fashion to quote Americans upon all occasions of political argument, or of remarking upon the American complex system of federative government, which some among them strive to copy. But it is only the shouting of soi-disant Republicans who have the shadow without any of the substance. They have neither correspondents in the United States for their papers, nor yet strive to improve their knowledge of Americans by any legitimate means whatever; while all their attention is turned to Europe, whence they have imported all the evils which afflict them, and where only they send their children, to return more filled with its vices than its virtues. Throughout the whole of Spanish or Portuguese South America I know only the Mercurio, of Valparaiso, which has a correspondent in the United States, and whose general impartiality and good sense merited a notice from me in my last. But on this side of the Cordilleras they much prefer to quote murders, riots, filibuster expeditions, duels, or any remark tending to disparage Americans, which may be found in your daily Press, than to mention anything which may make the contrast evident between their real condition and your own; and they will publish anything in the world against Americans, no matter how absurd—no matter whether they know it to be false or not, so long as it will pay to do so. The Reforma Pacifico, of this city—whose title should be Desorganizador General—is the best exponent of this system.

In these remarks, which are generally applicable to the Argentine Press, I must except, in part, the Nacional of this city, and in whole the Imparcial, of the province of Cordoba. This latter is especially distinguished for its profound learning, and bold spirit of justice, coupled with patriotism. It is not notorious for the spirit of ridiculous jealousy which renders the Chilian Press so bitter towards us, and which the vast majority take as their model.

Some days before the coup d'état in Paris in 1851, I asked a distinguished nobleman there why it was that Americans were so roundly abused in the public Press, when the French claimed that they were desirous of being Republicans. His reply was: "Parceque vous etes trop heureux." He might have added, Parceque nous ne voulons pas la Republique. So it is here. They are jealous of American advancement in the midst of their comparative decadence, and they will have nothing of the Republic save its liberty; which, without order and obedience and respect for the law, has long since degenerated into pure license. From the despotism of Rosas, they have rushed into the opposite extreme; a natural reaction it is true, but one from which they must strive to gain the juste milieu, or they will never have aught but the semblance of progress. Much—all, we may say—depends upon the public Press of the country. Where that is prostituted to filthy lucre, or personal passions, in which true principle has but a small part, it can do naught but harm. As it now is, although recognizing a continued peace, the only hope for advancement, the Press on both sides completely ignores the fact that "violence begets violence, but moderation in political contests unquestionably leads to moderation in return."

The latest news in reference to our Paraguay Expedition give us nothing of importance. General Urquiza, the President of the Confederation, was in Parana on the 10th inst., for the purpose of holding an interview with Commissioner Bowlin, undoubtedly in reference to the passage through the waters of the Confederation of the American naval forces, as well as with the hope of offering his mediation, by which to humbug the Yankees. Whilst at Rosario, taking in coal, Admiral Shubrick received a note from the Jefe politico of that Department, by order of the Governor of the Province, inquiring into the object of the aglomeracion of our naval forces in that port. He was probably informed that neither he nor his provincial Governor were the proper agents to make such an inquiry; that the squadron being en route for Parana, the capital of the Confederation, the Admiral would there communicate with his superiors.

Latest letters from Paraguay, written by persons hostile to Lopez, continue to state that he will fight, sooner than accept the demands to be made upon him. He has got one very heavy battery of 18 sixty-four-pounders, and if he could depend upon his own people, it might cost some trouble to take. But this he cannot do. The Brazilian and Argentine Ministers will undoubtedly do what they can with him to make him yield, but their efforts are quite likely to have the reverse effect. He has before him now a constant fear of revolution if he does not fight, and a certainty of downfall, with but little honor, if he does. He is afraid of the military elements which he has assembled, and which—the time may soon come—he is unable to manage. Thus tyrants generally end their careers. God grant that our mission may have that glory. It is our duty, and the civilized world expects it of us. In my next I will touch upon the peculiarities of Lopez's position, the true international law in his case, and the absurdities of the "old-style" law, as well as upon the constant mistakes of Civilization when treating with Barbarism.

Last Moment.—The British packet has just arrived, bringing to President Lopez, of Paraguay, the small sum of twenty-five thousand doubloons. This money was left at Montevideo, because that Government is friendly to him, and comes by way of loan from Brazil. Thus Lopez is playing poor to Brazil, and this latter is lending money to her neighbors right and left, to have a pretext later to absorb them in payment thereof. In my next I will treat of this topic. N.

Buenos Ayres, Friday, Jan. 21, 1859.

The letters of your correspondent must not be taken as forming a corrected narrative of "men and things" in these countries Indeed, they could not be so without going back to the fall of Rosas, in February, 1852, since which time the American public have known almost nothing of political arrangements here, and less about the real elements of progress which exist among us. Their knowledge has been chiefly confined to the prices current of merchandise, with occasional speculations of commercial correspondents. But as I investigate and travel among these people, my letters will be rather speculative, on much which cannot be called "pencilings by the way," and principally intended to record present impressions and thoughts as notes preserved for more extended writings on my return. Without great labor it could not be otherwise, because the Spanish-American is so different from all other varieties of the genus homo, that the standards by which we are enabled to judge of mankind elsewhere are useless and lost to us with them. We would be more likely to get at a correct knowledge of their action by exactly reversing the principles which guide in general the rest of the human family, excepting only their peninsular ancestors. Thus it may fall out that I may write oftentimes apparent contradictions, the which when compared with the totality of my correspondence, will only then appear not to be so. I must therefore refer your readers to the time when my task shall be closed.

In former letters I made promises yet unfulfilled, viz: To speak about the project of steam navigation between the United States and the Plata, and of the American Exploring Expedition under Captain Page, United States Navy. These I must still delay, in order to take up the question of Paraguay, and international law, as bearing upon them, to which I will join an exposé of the conduct which our Government ought to pursue in this case, in accordance with the requirements of our commerce and the general wishes of enlightened men out here of all nations, even Brazil. But as yet I have very little faith that our statesmen understand Spanish America, and less that the present mission to Paraguay will tend to the full accomplishment of anything which we desire. For my argument, I must premise that the reports of the New-York Press about the instructions of Judge Bowlin are true, viz: That he must obtain, first, satisfaction for the outrages done upon our flag; second, indemnity for losses to American citizens; third, a treaty liberal and progressive for Paraguay in its nature; fourth, readmission of Captain Page's Exploring Expedition into the waters of Paraguay.

1. The satisfaction, Lopez will give; all that this step in advance will cost him, will be a trifling loss in pride and an equal amount in gunpowder.

2. He will hesitate and haggle as long as he can about the pecuniary indemnity, because it comes out of his own pocket; and he has so impoverished the nation that it will take him long to reimburse the amount. Perhaps he fears with justice that his day of retribution may come before his coffers are again full.

3. The treaty he will sign with a full determination of never keeping a single article of it, after the American forces are withdrawn from his sight.

4. He will admit the explorers perhaps.

But all and singular of these things he positively continues to declare he will not do; and who can tell whether he will or not? He is so subject to fits of rage and insolence, that he himself cannot determine five minutes beforehand what he may do; and he may snap the cord of forbearance when he least thinks to do so. Yet let us suppose that all passes off pacifically—what then will be the position of the United States Government and people in these countries?

International law is an institution constantly in the mouths of men, and sometimes in their corporate actions. It is compounded, as now existing, of some principles of justice, amongst much that is foggy and absurd; with few changes for the present age, it is a remnant of the middle ages, an apparently eternal legacy of tyrants when all the world was oppressed, intended to prove to us that their incubus must ever weigh upon thirty-three thirty-fourths of the human race. Now, international law requires that we must go to Lopez, and make a pacific demand from him to render us justice. He assents. We pocket the dispatches giving us satisfaction; we listen to 21 guns fired to honor our flag; we carry off a certain number of his doubloons, and we leave him there to continue oppressing his people, destroying production and commerce, and from his geographical position preventing the development of Bolivia and Paraguay, with a population of more than 2,000,000 of souls; by which means he preserves all the regions of the Plata in constant alarm, and in political and social disunion, with misery and poverty for their daily food.

Thus has the constant but mistaken policy of civilized nations tended to create and to preserve the present cursed condition of Spanish America. The elements of barbarism when these nations first split from the mother country were too strong to be resisted by the very few good patriots who alone knew how to constitute a new nation; and with the exception of but one or two small fractions of Spanish America, they still remain so, because they are in power, hold the purse-strings and consequently the sword. But it is not true that the majority of Spanish Americans are partisans of barbarism, or that they cannot be governed in any other mode. If they could but once throw off their yoke, with the hope of preserving the sympathy of the external world, they would be saved from the now inevitable fate of Mexico.

No one can pretend for a moment that the existence in power of Lopez, of Paraguay, is a proof that his Government is popular among his people, or that he is even the champion of a majority of the inhabitants. Bastard offspring of Jesuitism as he is, he oppresses all classes of the community. He has no party in the country, except his wife, three sons and two daughters, with their lemons and lovers. Every head of every good family having been either cut off by Francia, or now in exile, there is no one of prestige sufficient to give the shout of revolution against Lopez, so that if it does not come from abroad it will never come at all, and Lopez, with his family, may continue to farm the resources of that splendid country, and to blockade Bolivia, as long as any of the monopolizing race is permitted by Providence to breed.

Had, however, the American people, through their Commissioner, arrived at Paraguay, with a proclamation to the Paraguayan people, complaining of the outrages which we have suffered from their tyrant, and offered to support them in a revolution against him, and to see fair play in a judgment of the great criminal, demanding only that we should be paid out of the enormous fortune which he has robbed from them, how different would our position be for glory and for commerce among all his neighbors. And how deep the lesson would strike into the hearts of other tyrants. And how perfect the protection thereafter accorded to American citizens throughout the world.

But, alas! the "old fogie" says that this is interference, intervention, and so forth, not recognized by international law. It is the same interference which I am entitled, by all law, human and divine, to take with the household of my neighbor, when it becomes a nuisance to the community where he resides. I make the head of that house responsible for its quietude and order, and I do not incarcerate or punish the crying children or mewling babes of his family, but I see that they can give their evidence, under the protection of the law, against their domestic tyrant, upon whom alone falls the punishment. But international law says that you must declare war against the nation instead of against its offending head; and that you must shoot down the innocent victims of tyranny whom force compels to shed their blood for their greatest enemy.

In this case of Paraguay, it is proved to a demonstration, that Lopez alone is the offending member. From no other single individual in the nation, have Americans ever received aught but unusual kindness and hospitality, and we now have a strong party among them, which daily prays for deliverance from their horrible tyrant by our hands. When they are disappointed we shall fall down to the level of all other communities in their estimation, and well deserve to stay there; because, among all civilized nations, they consider us to be the only instruments of God's Providence for the chastisement of their oppressor. How true it is then that international law, in many cases, is opposed to Divine Law, which requires the advance of the human race. And yet our statesmen (?) will not see or know this great fact. Their energies are lost in the intrigues of domestic parties—in the worship of self. They are too ignorant to know that the cause we advocate would keep them in power, and cause unborn millions to bless their names.

Any other course than the one I have here traced out to you, is impossible for improvement. It is the course we will be obliged to adopt in Mexico. See that their tyrants are judicially hanged, and support in power a good man, until a reasonable degree of union, peace and internal order is firmly established. But never will we have such an opportunity again as the one now presented to us in Paraguay. Any other course, that is to say, the old course of International Law—like the triumph of the Spartans over the Athenians in the Peloponesian war—only sow the seeds of future wars. The growth of a spirit of organization and self-government cannot exist under men like Lopez, who is only the worst type of the petty Spanish-American tyrant; whilst the mistaken policy of modern nations in reference to these excrescences on the body politic of the world, is a crime which will surely react upon them in a thousand ways. If the ill-bred and thieving vagrant is not sent to school or to jail, and obliged to learn at least something of his duties to his God and to his fellow-men, the society where he holds his nightly orgies of plunder and vice, are to blame, and must inevitably pay the consequences thereof. So with nations as with men. Society performs but a small part of its obligations when it legislates only for its immediate social necessities. International Law should be progressive like any other system of education, for all are based upon the accumulating experience of mankind. All of Truth is not yet discovered, although we know that universal law, that if a man does not grow better he must grow worse; to remain absolutely unchanged is impossible. So with nations as with men.

I will not pursue this subject further, but I hope that the time is not far distant when my feeble voice may be heard in defence of our principles: for if changes for the advancement of mankind come not from out the American people, I know not where we may hope to see them.

No matter how Commissioner Bowlin may be instructed to settle the Paraguay business, he has a hard time before him. European Diplomacy is tricky enough, but it is all plain sailing in comparison to Portuguese and Spanish American chicanery. His only course is the plain straight forward one of stern integrity, and from what I have heard of him, I am strongly inclined to believe that he will succeed in the immediate objects of his mission; but I much fear will leave no trace of good behind. The diplomatic world here is as busy as blue-bottle flies in harvest time. They rush to Asuncion. Brazilian and Argentine suddenly find the necessity of having resident ministers near the august person of the Guarani Cacique. Of course, he wants their advice, and, of course, he will take no step with the American Minister, without their concurrence or knowledge. The gold that I informed you in my last had arrived per British packet for Lopez, turns out to be another Brazilian loan for Urquiza. No matter, the principle is the same. Brazil cannot join Urquiza in open alliance against Buenos Ayres, for very strong and sufficient reasons, and the Emperor is opposed in person to any such demonstration. But she can always lay the nest egg of her loans as a contingency for future difficulties; for the mortgage will have to be foreclosed sooner or later.

The rumor of the meeting between Urquiza and Lopez was also premature. It is about to take place on the Parana River in the province of Corrienter, and was brought about by the intervention of Señor Pujol, Governor of Corrientes. Urquiza would like to have the men and the steamers of Lopez to invade Buenos Ayres with, but he will not succeed. For Lopez knows too much to let his Paraguayans go out of their own country; on their return he would have to leave for parts unknown. Desertions have commenced from the Paraguayan army, which shows the last state of starvation and despair. And, incredible as it may appear, the last steamer of Lopez, which left here the other day, was loaded with jerk-beef—the food of the Brazilian and Cuban slaves—for his army. Thus the time is coming, for mankind are so constituted that so long as their physical wants are satisfied the cravings of their intellectual and moral natures are rarely vehement; but general distress soon brings revolution, and any enemy of Lopez will find a strong party in Paraguay in their favor. NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Grand Jury and the Sickles Case—Modifications in the Cass-Herran Treaty—The Count de Sartiges—M. Belly, &c.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

Washington, Tuesday, March 15.

The Grand Jury have as yet brought in no bill. One is said to have been found against Mr. Sickles, but differences exist as to Mr. Butterworth—a majority being opposed to any action as regards him. The Grand Jury have confined themselves entirely to witnesses present at the affray. It is understood that some relatives of the deceased are on the Jury, prominent among whom is Benjamin Ogle Taylor, who demanded the right to be present at the post-mortem examination during the Coroner's inquest. Mr. Sickles' trial will no doubt be set for Monday.

The Cass-Herran Treaty was changed by the Senate in three particulars. First, the word "will" is substituted for "shall;" second, the time is extended in which the claims may be filed; third, the time is extended for the exchange of ratifications. These changes were made, and the Convention was approved by the Senate on the 8th inst. On the 10th it left New-York for New-Granada, to be again submitted to the New-Granadian Congress. There is no doubt of its approval, and the questions covered by the Convention are considered as settled.

The Count de Sartiges has not yet received leave of absence, though it is certainly anticipated by the next steamer.

Dispatches received at the British Legation from New-York contradict the rumor of Lord Lyons' arrival. The Curaçoa will no doubt land him at Annapolis.

Late advices indicate an increase of the war fever in Europe, but the impression is that it will be circumscribed, and participated in only by Austria, Sardinia and France.

M. Belly's return to Nicaragua is regarded by the Government here as another effort to create an impression by which he may be enabled to humbug the French capitalists out of their money—nothing more.

[FROM THE REPORTER FOR THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, Tuesday, March 15.

The Secretary of Treasury has notified the successful bidders for the late loan, that they need not make any further deposits, unless they choose, Government not at present requiring money. It is thought in financial circles that no call for installments will be made before midsummer.

For several hours this morning the President and Postmaster-General were in consultation with the principal officers of the Post-office Department, relative to the condition of its affairs, which were subsequently considered by the Cabinet. Owing to the magnitude of the subject, and the various important questions in connection with it, no conclusion as to an extra session of Congress was attained, but it is said this will be determined before the departure of the next California steamer. According to the exhibit there will be by the 1st of June a deficit of nearly four millions and a half. An extra session will be called under the pressure of absolute necessity.

The understanding here is that the British frigate Curaçoa will land Lord Lyons at Annapolis, and there await Lord Napier's convenience, to return in that vessel to Europe.

Ex-Senator Jones, of Iowa, to-day formally resigned the appointment of Minister to Bogota. Several candidates have already signified their willingness to serve their country in that capacity.

The Grand Jury continued, but did not conclude the examination of witnesses in the Sickles' case to-day.

The Circuit Court has been applied to for a settlement of the question of who is Mayor of our immediate neighbor, Georgetown. Two gentlemen claim that honor, and have been sworn into office.

Judge Vespasian Ellis died here yesterday, aged 59, of dropsy. He formerly represented this country in a diplomatic capacity, and has been long connected with the press.

A complaint has been lodged at the State Department against the British Consul at Galveston. In November the American ship Thomas Watson, of New-York, cleared with a cargo of cotton for Liverpool. The Consul refused to certify to the clean bill of health given by the Collector of that port, in consequence of which the vessel was detained 25 days, and narrowly escaped shipwreck. The allegation is that the Consul was actuated by a feeling of petty malice or revenge, owing to the attachment of the British schooner Commerce by the owners of the Watson, for damage done in port during a norther by the former, which was consigned to the British Consul. The owner of the Watson has preferred a claim of $10,000 against the British Government.

TROUBLE WITH ROMAN CATHOLIC SCHOLARS—GATHERING OF THE SONS OF VERMONT—ARREST FOR FORGERY, ETC.

Boston, Tuesday, March 15.

Some two or three hundred children of Catholic parents attending the Elliot School, in the north part of the city, had caused, yesterday and to-day, quite a disturbance by refusing to join in chanting the Lord's Prayer and Ten Commandments, in comformity to the rules of the Public Schools. The School Committee and Teachers remain firm, and a large number have been dismissed from the school.

The fourth annual social gathering of the Sons of Vermont took place at the Revere House this evening. The dinner, &c., was in admirable style. Gen. John S. Tyler presided. The speaking was of a high order, and among those who addressed the assembly were Judge Collamer of the United States Senate, Governor Banks, Mayor Lincoln, Judge Cutts, Hon. Charles P. Phelps, and the Presidents of several other organizations of the kind. The festivities commenced at 4 o'clock, and closed at about ten.

A man, traveling under the assumed names of Osborn and Turner, has been arrested in this city, suspected of obtaining forty-one hundred dollars, on a forged check, from Messrs. Sutton & Enders, Bankers, of Richmond, Va. The check purports to be drawn by Paul & Hinton, of Petersburg, Va.

Last evening the resin oil factory of A. W. Trowbridge & Co., at Newton Centre, was destroyed by fire with two small buildings adjoining. Loss about $6,000.

AFFAIRS AT ALBANY.

Taxing Catholic Funeral Processions—Minors Attending Theatres—Act in Relation to the Bank Department—Bill Compelling Editors to Wear Cow-hide Boots—Fairer Prospect for Quarantine Removal—The Police Report and the Public Health.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Albany, Tuesday, March 15, 1859.

Through the mist and rain of this Spring morning, the sun shone so feebly that the gas-lights were kept burning for several hours. And, under the stimulus of gas-light, the House worked with great rapidity and ordered scores of bills to a third reading. It was general-order day, but, by unanimous consent, Mr. Weeks introduced a bill in relation to the planting of shell-fish in Jamaica Bay. It provides that persons owning or leasing lands along the Jamaica Bays or creeks shall be allowed to plant oysters or clams below low-water mark, and to put up stakes to bound their property; it makes it a misdemeanor for others to remove the stakes or to steal the shell-fish. The same gentleman introduced a bill so amending the charter of Jamaica Village that the Trustees shall have power to open streets, and also to provide a new way for taxing the inhabitants for road improvements. Also, a bill incorporating a Company to construct a Canal from Gravesend Bay to Jamaica Bay, and thence to Jamaica; the capital to be $100,000, with the privilege of decreasing, if it is deemed desirable. The New-York Fire act was briefly debated, and progress reported. The bill authorizing the foundation of a Law Library in Binghamton, was ordered to a third reading, after a sharp contest with the Rochester, St. Lawrence and Essex interest. It appropriates $5,000 out of the Chancery Fund toward the Library. An act in relation to tolls on the White's Corners and Buffalo Plank Road Company was moved into Committee of the Whole by the Buffalonians. The act enables the gate-keeper to toll all carriages going to funerals, except the hearse and four other carriages. Mr. Miller (German Republican) explained that at the Catholic funerals the procession of carriages would sometimes be half a mile long greatly to the detriment of all other travel. The Bishops of Buffalo had felt called on to prohibit more than four carriages from attending a funeral—so fond were his people of going to funerals, paying even their last dollar for a carriage to swell the escort of their deceased friends' remains. Mr. Fuller (Republican) moved then to amend the title to read "An act to tax Irish funerals." But the motion to recommend the passage of the bill carried—not a Democrat voting No. The Senate bill prohibiting minors under 14 years of age from attending the theatres in New-York, unaccompanied by an adult, was ordered to a third reading. The Albany Police bill was recommitted to be reported complete. And then the House took a long breath. For the gentleman having it in charge, when he was foiled in his endeavor—some fortnight since—to get this moved ahead, gave fair notice from his place on the floor that nothing should be put ahead again with his consent until his bill had been reached in the regular order, and disposed of. He has faithfully kept his word, and many who had not the holy boldness to object to the perpetual motions to transpose business, when unanimous consent was required for that purpose, have thanked him for it. Still it was a comfort to see the rock removed.

The following act in relation to the Bank Department, which emanates from Mr. Superintendent Cook, and was introduced by Mr. Coleman of Troy, was reached to-day in Committee of the Whole, considered and ordered to a third reading:

Section 1. The Superintendent of the Banking Department is hereby authorized to issue to every banking association, or individual banker, now or hereafter to be organized under the provisions of the "Act to authorize the business of banking," passed April 18, 1838, and the amendments thereto, whose deposit of the securities, now required by law, with the Superintendent, shall consist of stocks only, a par circulation upon a stock bearing an interest of five per cent. per annum; but it shall not be lawful for the Superintendent to make such issue upon such stocks at a rate above their par value, or their current market value.

Sec. 2. It shall also be lawful for the Superintendent to issue to any banking association, or individual banker, a par circulation upon the like five per cent. stock, whenever such association or banker shall have withdrawn from the said Superintendent all the bonds and mortgages deposited with him under said act, and the Superintendent is authorized to change the die of his department upon all the notes thereafter issued to such association or banker, so that the pledge upon said notes shall read secured by the pledge of public stocks, in place of public stocks and real estate, at the expense of the association or banker requesting the same, and the Superintendent shall not be authorized to change the securities, or any of them so deposited, from stocks to bonds and mortgages, after such alteration of the pledge upon said notes shall have been directed to be made.

Sec. 3. Sections eight and nine of chapter three hundred and nineteen, being an act to amend the act entitled "An act to authorize the business of banking,' passed May 26, 1841; and chapter sixty-eight, being an act to amend the act entitled "An act to authorize the business of banking," passed May 26, 1841, which act was passed on the 29th of March, 1851; and chapter three hundred and seventy, entitled "An act to provide for the final closing of incorporated banks, continuing the business of banking until the expiration of their charters," passed April 13, 1857, are hereby amended so as to read as follows:

1. Whenever any banking association, individual banker, receiver of a banking association, assignee or assignees of an individual banker, shall have given notice to the Superintendent of their intention to close the business of banking, or the trustees or legal representatives of any incorporated bank whose charter has expired, or the receiver of any incorporated bank which shall have been declared insolvent, shall have redeemed at least ninety per cent. of their circulating notes, outstanding at the date of such notice, expiration of charter or declaration of insolvency, they shall be entitled to deposit with the Superintendent, and he is hereby authorized to receive a deposit of money equal to the amount of the outstanding circulation at the time of such deposit, to be placed by him in some Bank in the City of Albany, in good credit, upon the receipt of which it shall be lawful for the Superintendent to give up all other securities theretofore deposited with him for the redemption of circulating notes issued thereon.

2. Upon the receipt of such deposit the Superintendent shall immediately give notice in the State paper, and at least one newspaper in the county where such bank, banking association, or banker shall have been located or doing business, which notice shall be published at least once a week for six months successively, that the notes of such bank, banking association or banker, will be redeemed by him, at the bank where such deposit is made at par; and that all the outstanding circulating notes of such bank, banking association, or banker, must be so presented for redemption within six years from the date of such notice, and all notes which shall not be thus presented for redemption and payment within the time specified in such notice, shall cease to be a charge upon the funds in the hands of the Superintendent for that purpose.

3. At the expiration of such notice, it shall be lawful for the Superintendent to surrender, and such bank, banking association, banker, receiver, assignees or trustees, or their legal representatives, shall be entitled to receive from him, all the money remaining in his hands after such redemption, except so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the reasonable expenses chargeable against the said accounts, including the payment for the publication of the above-mentioned notices.

4. All circulating notes of such bank, banking association or banker, which shall not have been presented for payment within the period required by such notice, shall, upon the expiration of such period, cease to be a lien or charge upon the property and effects of such bank, banking association or banker, in the hands of such receivers, assignees, trustees or otherwise; and all liability of such receivers, assignees, trustees, banks, banking associations, or bankers, for or on account of any circulating notes, which shall not have been presented within the time aforesaid, shall also cease.

5. And said trustees, receiver, assignees, bank, banking association, or banker, may, after the full payment of all the circulating notes issued by them respectively, which shall have been presented within the time required by such notice, and of all other lawful claims and demands against such bank, banking association, or banker, divide the remaining property and effects of said bank, banking association or banker, among the stockholders thereof, their or his personal representatives or assigns, according to their respective shares and interest therein.

Sec. 4. The Superintendent of the Banking Department is hereby directed to pay into the Treasury of the State all balances of money remaining in his hands unclaimed for six years from the date of such deposit, to be applied to the current expenses of the Bank Department.

Sec 5. Any legal notice that shall be served upon the Superintendent of the banking department, in relation to any mortgage of which he is the assignee, shall specify the name of the mortgagor and the description of the premises, as shown by the mortgage, covering them and the name of the party by whom it was assigned to him; and unless such notice shall contain the provisions hereinbefore mentioned, a noncompliance with the terms of such notice, on the part of the Superintendent, shall not invalidate or lessen the security conveyed by such mortgage, or in any manner affect his lien upon the mortgaged premises conveyed under it.

Sec. 6. It shall be the duty of every public officer, into whose hands shall come any counterfeit bank note plate, or other device for counterfeiting bank notes, or any counterfeit or spurious bank notes, immediately, after using them when necessary in evidence against the parties implicated, to surrender the same to the superintendent of the banking department to be destroyed under his supervision, and it shall be the duty of the Superintendent to destroy all such plates, devices or notes thus surrendered to him, in the same manner as he is now authorized to do in the case of banks whose charters have expired or have become insolvent, and to report the same to the Legislature in his annual report.

Senator Ely's extraordinary bill, introduced Monday evening, was favorably reported to-day. It provides that no publication by a newspaper concerning a person elected by the people to any office shall be deemed libelous; but if any such elected officer should deem it so, and hence proceeds to assault and batter the editor of said libel-bearing paper, an action against him shall not lie, unless the editor be personally maimed or deprived of life thereby. Just as it stands this would be rather hard on poor editors,—making it necessary for them to wear double-soled cow-hide boots the year round, and compelling them to sail under so much heavier capital as a pair of revolvers would cost. Probably, however, before it passes, an amendment will be added, excusing the battered editor from penal responsibilities when he labors on the defensive, unless his miserable foe is knocked into an irrecoverable jelly and the wind utterly and forever expelled from his presumptuous carcase. So amended, it would leave a clean field and open new avenues for ambitious editors to the high seats of notoriety and consideration.

Staten Island has sent up a delegation to hunt up and hurry through the Quarantine Removal bill. They seem to be sensible men. They are hot after removal, but do not seem to care for the plunder that Mr. Christie's bill awards to the lobby, nor to insist that it shall pass with those features in it which make it inhumane and barbarous. With such amendments as they consent to, the removal will pass through the House like fire, for I doubt if there are five men in the House who do not admit the necessity of removing Quarantine from Staten Island just as soon as it can be humanely and decently done. But there is a strong opposition to the bill which permits the yellow fever hospitals to be erected on Coney Island, which orders the yellow fever patients out of Castleton without providing first that temporary accommodations shall be secured, and which allows the half a million dollars' worth of property at Castleton to be sold in just that way and method that one man shall dictate. This representation of the sober sentiment of Staten Island puts their pet project in much better shape before the Assembly, and I hope will assist to accomplish the removal at an early day. The subject is set down for Wednesday evening as a special order.

Senator Spinola's Metropolitan Police report was taken from the table to-day to be printed. The testimony, I believe, has never been reported to the Senate; and those who have not read it as it was published exclusively, a while ago in a Sunday paper, and discovered how little like legislative testimony it reads, wonder why.

The Public Health Bill coming up to day, a substitute which suits the health reformers of your City was offered, ordered printed and made a special order for Friday noon. GLAUCUS.

NEW-YORK LEGISLATURE.

SENATE....Albany, Tuesday, March 15.

Mr. Noxon introduced a substitute for the bill relative to the Board of Health of New-York, somewhat limiting the powers of the original bill, and intended as a compromise.

The Senate then refused to print Mr. Spinola's report and testimony on the Metropolitan Police until the minority report was made.

The Superintendent of Public Instruction reported the condition of the institution for the instruction of the deaf and dumb, representing that unless aid was immediately granted the mortgage on the property of the institution would be foreclosed.

EVENING SESSION.

The bill offered as a substitute for the New-York Health bill is said to be a compromise agreed on by all the parties in interest. It does not abolish the City Inspector's office, but places strictly the sanitary duties under a Board of Health, which is to appoint a Superintendent of Public Health who is to be a medical practitioner.

The bill to increase the power of the Public Administrators was taken up in Committee of the Whole.

An amendment, offered by Mr. Spinola, appropriating all moneys received under the act to the redemption of the unconstitutional Canal debt, was lost.

Mr. Mather moved that the unclaimed deposits be deposited with the County Treasurers. Lost.

Mr. Mather moved to amend by providing that every lodging-house keeper in New-York shall report to the Public Administrators, within 24 hours, when any person dying in his house leaves personal property there. Carried.

Mr. Mather also moved to amend by requiring similar action from the Coroners in New-York. Carried.

The special order being the alleged vacancy in Mr. Mandeville's seat, it was taken up.

Mr. Scott moved that the Judges of the Court of Appeals be respectfully requested, if consistent with their duties, to inform the Senate whether the vacancy constitutionally exists.

Messrs. Diven and Laflin opposed the resolution, unless the final vote was taken at the time already fixed, which is to-morrow night.

After a long debate was had, and a variety of amendments had been voted down, the resolution was tabled.

Mr. Ely gave notice of a bill to reorganize the School Department of New-York.

ASSEMBLY....Tuesday, March 15.

Mr. Meeks introduced a bill to regulate the planting of shell fish in Jamaica Bay.

The bill to regulate the New-York firemen had progress.

The bill to establish a Law Library in the Sixth Judicial District was ordered to a third reading.

Mr. Shaw introduced a bill to provide that all persons imprisoned in the City and County of New-York on civil suits shall be maintained at the expense of the person at whose suit such imprisonment is had, and that unless this is paid the prisoner to be discharged. It also provides that prisoners now in confinement shall be discharged unless the parties at whose suit he is held shall execute a bond within twenty days for his future support

The evening session was spent entirely in considerations of private bills on general orders.

Political.

The Hon. Ezra Clark, who represents the Hartford District of Connecticut in Congress, has published a second letter to his constituents, in which he offers to withdraw from his position as an independent candidate for reëlection, provided Mr. Loomis, the Republican nominee, will likewise withdraw, and thus permit the selection of a new man. It is stated, however, that such a compromise would not suit the friends of Mr. Loomis.

Railroad Responsibility.—At Cincinnati a judgment has just been affirmed in the General Term of the Superior Court, which is of interest to travelers and railroad companies. A gentleman purchased a ticket in Washington, from a general agent of all the lines, through to Cincinnati. When he arrived there his baggage was missing, and he subsequently sued the Little Miami Railroad Company for its value, and a judgment was recovered in the Court below. This was affirmed upon the ground that the ticket was recognized by the defendants, which was sufficient evidence of the authority of the agent at Washington. There were no circumstances to show that there was a division or separation of contracts as to the various lines in regard to the transportation of the passenger and his baggage.

Trial of James Stephens for the Murder of his Wife by Poison—Testimony for Defence Commenced.

EIGHTH DAY.

COURT OF OYER AND TERMINER.

Before the Hon. Judge Roosevelt.

The Court-room was more crowded yesterday than on the two preceding days. There were fewer ladies present, owing probably to the state of the weather.

The prosecution reëxamined Dr. James R. Wood, and called Dr. Phelps to testify to one single fact—whether he had a key of the dead-house in his possession while the body of Mrs. Stephens lay there. He testified that he had a key, but allowed no one to enter. Dr. Wood's testimony was unimportant, being merely cumulative.

The District-Attorney announced that the case for the prosecution was ended. The first witness placed on the stand for the defence was Stephens' little child, Bella, a smart, interesting girl. The usual inquiries as to the nature of an oath were answered by her satisfactorily. She was then sworn, and the proceedings of the trial were continued as follows:

Isabella Jane Stephens, examined by Mr. Ashmead—Was seven years old on the 5th August last; knew Fanny Bell; she lived at witness' house; her mother was sick, and witness saw Fanny Bell give her powders, which she got out of the clock; saw her give her powders twice in a tablespoon; she and Hannah waited on her mother when sick; I ate flummery and got sick; it was on a Tuesday that I was sick; my mother was sick also; I said, "Cousin, can I have this to eat?" and she said "Yes;" it was cousin Fanny Bell I mean; Fanny was not sick that day; my mother was sick; it was on Friday Fanny was sick; cold cabbage made her sick; my father was not unkind to my mother; Fanny Bell called my mother a liar; she went to hit my mother with a bench; I do not remember the day of Mrs. Stevenson's funeral; I do not remember any conversation between my father and mother about it; father went to the funeral ceremony; I saw him going; my mother did not go with him; she was in the house; she did not dress herself to go; my father was home, painting the doors; I was over at my aunt Hannah's the day my mother died.

Cross-examined by Mr. Shaffer—I have lived, since my father was arrested, at my aunt's; I have lived there ever since; while my mother was sick, I went to school at Ward School No. 14; I left home at nine in the morning, and got home at three in the afternoon; I was taken sick after coming home from school; I ate the flummery in the kitchen; I was in my mother's room that day; when I took sick I went to bed with my mother; I was taken sick after I ate it; Isabella Bennett told me, since this trial began, that it was flummery; she was in her mother's house; Mrs. Hannah and Isabella Bennett have talked to me a good deal about my father's trial; I knew yesterday morning I was to be a witness; Mr. Ashmead told me on Thursday night; I went to his house with my cousin Sophia Hannah; I do not know how long I was there; about an hour or two; Mr. Ashmead was asking me questions; he asked me questions about half an hour; I do not know the color of the flummery; it was white; it tasted sour, like a sour apple, not like a pickle; I do not know what boiled rice is; I cannot tell what the white stuff in the flummery looked like; I never saw anything like it before; I ate five spoonfuls; I began to be sick just after I eat it, when I got up from the table; it was about four o'clock; immediately when I got home I went up stairs to my mother's room; she was asleep, and I came out again; I went to the kitchen, and stayed three or four minutes till I ate it; I did not eat any thing else; I was not hungry; I did not see my mother eat any of it; my cousin, Isabella Bennett, told me it was the flummery made me sick; she only said it was flummery I ate; she was sitting on a chair, and called me over and told me; nobody before told me it was flummery that I ate; that was all she said; my mother was sick that afternoon; she told me so; she asked me if I was sick; she did not ask me what made me sick; she did not ask me if I was sick; I laid on the bed with mother; I stayed there till morning; before going to sleep I saw Mrs. Stephens and Mrs. Foley in the room; I did not go to Fanny's room that afternoon; I vomited before I went into bed with my mother; I love boiled rice with sugar on it; I began to love it when mother used to make it; I used to ask her to make it; my cousin Isabella Bennett told me, last Sunday night, that I was sick on a Tuesday; it was before I went to Mr. Ashmead's that she told me; she told me that she knew the day was Tuesday; father told me I would go into hell-fire if I told a story; it was about a couple of weeks ago he told me; he told me so in his house in Twenty-seventh-street; it was in that house he told me so; I do not know who was there besides my father; I meant to say it was about a month ago; I do not know who was there but my father and me; I don't think anybody else was there; I went from school there; I meant to say it was in the Tombs he told me; my cousin, Maria Hannah, went to the Tombs with me; my cousin told me she was going to take me down; Mrs. Stephens and Mrs. Foley were at the house the day I ate the flummery; they were in my mother's room; she was asleep; they did not talk to her; they remained about an hour; my mother woke while I was asleep; they were there before me; my cousin, Fanny Bell, told me they were there three or four minutes before I came; I vomited before going to sleep; I vomited once that day; my mother did not know I was sick till the next morning; I vomited in my mother's room; I did not make any noise; I went to school every day during my mother's sickness all but Tuesday; I do not know what Tuesday it was; it was not the Tuesday my mother died; it was the day of Mrs. Stephenson's funeral; my cousin, Isabella Bennett, told me, on Sunday night last, it was on that Tuesday; I should not have known what day it was if she had not told me; my cousin came for me on the day my mother died, and I went to her house; I did not go to school that day; it was for a couple of minutes that my cousin took me to her house; she told me on Wednesday morning that my mother was dead; I went to bed about eight o'clock; I saw my father when I came home again next morning; I told Mr. Ashmead on Sunday night that Fanny Bell had called my mother a liar; Isabella Hannah told me Fanny called her a liar a couple of minutes before we went to Mr. Ashmead; she talked to me about these things about three minutes; nobody ever talked to me about the powders Fanny gave to my mother; Mr. Ashmead asked me if I ever saw anybody give my mother powders; I saw Fanny Bell give her powders; nobody told me about the powders; she gave my mother the powders about a week before she died; I do not know what time of day it was; I was eating my dinner; I was home that day; I was eating beef, cabbage and potatoes: she took the powders out of the clock; I ate my dinner in the kitchen; the clock was in the front room; I stopped eating my dinner to go to the door of the sitting-room, to see what Fanny Bell was doing; I wanted to see what she was getting; I cannot tell why I wanted to see what she was getting; bad enough to stop eating my dinner; I remembered about the powders all this time without telling anybody; I saw Fanny go to the clock, and stand there, and then I went back again to the kitchen and finished eating my dinner; I had commenced eating my dinner before I went into the sitting-room and found Fanny Bell at the clock; I think my father was eating his dinner in the kitchen; I have told all I know about Fanny Bell's giving my mother powders; my cousin Isabella Bennett on last Sunday night, told me about Fanny's throwing a bench at my mother; I had never talked with anybody about throwing the bench before last Sunday night; I do not know anything about throwing the bench, except what my cousin told me last Sunday night.

To the Court—I was seven years old when I saw Fanny Bell give my mother those powders—I think I was six years old; sometimes my cousin, and sometimes I went myself on errands, while my mother was sick.

James Cantrel, examined by Mr. Cushing—I was the undertaker who conducted the funeral of Mrs. Stephens; I assisted in putting on her shroud and cap; she did not have a black eye, to my knowledge; if she had one it would have attracted my attention; I know nothing of the relations which existed between Mr. and Mrs. Stephens.

Cross-examined by District Attorney—I put on the shroud and cap while the body was on the bed—that is my impression; it was very light in the room when I put on the shroud; my attention was not called to the fact that her eye was discolored; if her eye had been black I should have noticed it; I had never seen Mrs. Stephens previous to her death; I do not swear that she had not a black eye; I swear to the best of my knowledge that she had not a black eye; there might have been a discoloration.

To Mr. Cushing—She had a pleasant expression on her countenance.

To Mr. Shaffer—She looked like a person who had been relieved from pain.

Susan Hannah, examined by Mr. Cushing—I reside at No. 225 East Twenty-third-street; my husband's name is James Hannah; I am sister to the defendant; I have another brother married to a sister of his wife; they are in Ireland; Stephens came to this country first; I came here a year and a half after him; I have been on friendly terms always with Stephens' family; once in a while Mrs. Stephens would be complaining of her health; two days before her death she had an attack of heaving off her stomach; when she took that bad turn, she heaved off her stomach continually; she said she thought she was bilious; she complained of her breast, and of a pain in her side; she often thought she had a touch of consumption; she was a month or five weeks in bed on that occasion, to the best of my recollection; Dr. Cadmus attended her at that time; after she recovered from that illness, she would complain that when she went up stairs with a weight in her hand, she would be attacked with a shortness of breath; she said she would come to see me oftener, only I lived up four flights of stairs, and she could not get up so high; her ancles used to swell a good deal; they would swell sometimes and then the swelling would go away; I was with her every day, after she was two or three days sick, this last illness; she complained of the same heaving off her stomach, and pain of her chest—and some difficulty she complained of when she put her hand to her throat; I saw no difference from the way she was affected two years before and the way in which she took her death; during her last illness she had no diarrhœa; she sent for me, and told me the doctor ordered her to get injections; we administered injections six or eight times; I gave her one on Monday previous to her death; I don't recollect any after that; the contents of the injections were soap-suds and salt, and to the best of my recollection there was a little castor-oil in it; I never saw her take any medicines; on the day before she died I was over to see her twice; I went about 10 o'clock in the morning; I went home within a few minutes of 12; I returned about 4 o'clock, and remained till after 6; she said if she got worse she would send for me; I returned at 8½ o'clock, and remained until her death; I and Sophia Bell, at her own request, washed her and laid her out; I did not see her sleep in the morning; in the afternoon she seemed much the same way; she called for a drink to throw the stuff off her stomach; in the evening my daughter Maria came with me; my daughter Isabella was there during the day; Sophia and Fanny Bell, Mr. Armstrong, and Mr. Davis were there in the evening; they, to the best of my recollection, were praying with the sick woman; the deceased's sister repeated a verse of a hymn and they sang it; I did not observe any labored breathing; I do not know during the time of her sickness that it required any effort to wake her; I did not see her sleep any; she asked for the vessel after Mr. Armstrong went away; we raised her and she got up; this was about 12 o'clock; she had very little movement of the bowels; she had only once before that; it was in the afternoon when I went back again; it was very little; I don't know of any medicines that she got, except for ——; Mr. Stephens was away at camp-meeting for about ten days the Summer before she died; she was sick during his absence; she was heaving off her stomach the same way; she told me that Dr. Cadmus told her, at her previous illness, if she ever took the same attack she would never get over it; I knew her in Ireland; she complained there of heaving off; she was ever subject to that attack; in my own house she had it; this was nine years ago and over; she told me she heaved off continually on board ship, during her voyage here; the color of the matter she threw off was yellow; that was always the color at all her sicknesses; I sat up with her as a watcher two years before her death, when she had such a bad spell; my daughter and Sophia Bell sat up with me; during her last illness her voice seemed clear; she spoke distinctly; she was a good-looking woman—young-looking for her age; she had lost her teeth; on the last night of her life she told them in the room that she was about to be called home; she called her husband to her bedside, put her arm around his neck, and said, "Dear husband, meet me in Heaven—take care of the child," for she knew she was leaving him with a good father; this was about nine o'clock; she died at ten minutes to two; I told them to look at the clock; she got up after she parted with her husband, for a necessary purpose; I was generally in her bedroom, and in and out of her sitting-room up to the time of her death; there was a lamp in her bedroom; she told her husband not to go to a boarding-house, and to mind the child; she told him to go to bed, and asked me if I wouldn't go and make the bed for him, for he was fatigued a good deal with her; he refused to go, but I told him she seemed anxious for him to have a rest; he did lay down; and she made me bring his boots into the bed-room, to show her that he was in bed, to have some rest; Sophia Bell was in and out of the bedroom and sitting-room, and Fanny also; they did not lay down while I was there; I told Stephens if his wife got worse I would call him; I told one of them to call him; he got there just as she was breathing her last; during that last day of her life, she had no convulsions or cramps; I did not hear her complain of numbness; she used her hands and arms as I always saw her use them; there was no laudanum administered to her while I was there; I saw no brandy administered to her; she took some milk and water, some coffee and some water; I cannot recollect if she took lager-bier or not; I gave her a drink of milk and water; she asked for it; she drank about a dozen times or more during the day and evening; when persons came in during the day and evening, she recognized them and talked with them; she had no delirium or unconsciousness; there was nothing different in her appearance from that of ordinary sick people; people talked with her several times; she was always wishful to talk with them; the last time of the night that I recollect of her saying anything was close to one o'clock, or after twelve, to the best of my recollection; she spoke to my daughter and told her to be a good girl, and to meet her in Heaven; Mr. Davis was there twice that evening; the last time was about ten o'clock; the persons who were in there through the whole of that last day, were my daughter Isabella; Maria was there; James Stephens was there; Fanny Bell; Sophia was to work, but was there during the evening; Mr. Davis and Mr. Armstrong were there; Mr. Pulman was there before, but I was not there; Fanny split suds on the carpet that morning; her aunt said the carpet would be spoiled; Fanny said perhaps it would last longer than herself; in the morning she complained of the Misses Bell not being kind to her, and that they would not attend to her; and that if she were to recover she would not have them long about her; Stephens was in my house part of the time that day; I was at her house on the Sunday previous to her death; I went over there about nine o'clock, and stopped till it was dark in the afternoon; the Bell girls were out, and said they were at Church; they were a couple of hours out in the evening; Mrs. Stephens had a good complexion, but as she came towards her death, her color declined; she did not have a black eye during her last sickness; I know of somebody purchasing some arsenic at Cadmus' store, of Flynn, the clerk; my husband purchased it; Stephens was present; I stood out on the sidewalk; it was in July, 1857, to the best of my recollection; he got three cents' worth; it was got for rats; my husband took it home, mixed it, and left it for the rats; he afterwards brought home some more; the Bell girls lived with Mr. Stephens after the death of Mrs. Stephens; they lived on with my brother; he taked about breaking up his house and going home to see his father.

Q.—How came they to leave there? A.—Sophy came to my house some six weeks after the death of her aunt; and said if Stephens broke up housekeeping they would have no place to go to, and they would be turned out; she asked me to speak to brother not to put them away; I said to him it would be unkind of him to turn them away, on account of my sister who was gone, whom I loved dearly; in the course of four months after, he got a letter from home; he read it to me; he asked them if it was they who wrote home; he told them to get a boarding-house, for their aunt was now gone, and he would take her part; it stated in the letter that they wrote home to Ireland about their aunt dying of drunkenness; that she would drink a quart of brandy to a quart of gin a day; they left a few months after; they asked him to let them stop till they could get a boarding-house; the girls were frequently at my house; my own girls frequently visited at Stephens' house after his wife's death.

To Mr. Ashmead—I was in the room of Mrs. Stephens on the night of her death; Sophia Bell was there; I did not see any one shake Mrs. Stephens to awaken her from sleep; I did not hear her say she was numb, or that she had no feeling on one side; she could raise on her elbow herself; I did not see Sophy Bell raise her; I did not herr her give an awful shriek; the lamp was not taken out of the room all that night; when Mrs. Stephens told her husband to meet her in Heaven the word "prepare" was not used; they were as kind a couple to each other as could be in the world.

Cross-examined by Mr. Schaffer—I was in my own house on the day of Mrs. Stephens' funeral; I was over at Stephens' house on the day following; I do not recollect anything there that day; I did not do any scrubbing on the day of Mrs. Stephens' funeral; I never lived in that house; Stephens continued to live in the house his wife died in until his arrest; my daughter, Mrs. Bennett, attended to his affairs; it was my other daughter Mrs. Stephens told to meet her in Heaven; I was examined before the Coroner's Jury; I testified before the Coroner that I never heard her complain of any disease but a shortness of breath when she came up stairs, and a heaving from her stomach; I did not testify that I was at her house when Dr. Cadmus called; I never heard any conversation between Dr. Cadmus and Mr. Stephens; I was every day at Mrs. Stephens' house during her last sickness from when she was two or three days sick; I would remain sometimes half an hour, and sometimes longer; I was sometimes in her bedroom and sometimes in her sitting-room; I did not say before the Coroner that I went there; I used to go occasionally into the sick-room, I did not testify before the Coroner that Mrs. Stephens' neices were always in attendance upon their aunt; I did not testify that Fanny Bell was the principal attendant on Mrs. Stephens; I testified that she told me it was no use of her taking any medicine, as one powder was no sooner on her stomach than it was off; I did not testify that she expressed a desire to take no more medicines; I testified before the Coroner that, after death, when we turned her on her face, about a gill of something dark came out of her mouth; I did not testify that I did not go close enough to find whether it was laudanum or not; I did not testify that she died about 2½ o'clock in the morning; no person came after me on the morning of the day of her death; I went about 10 o'clock; I saw Dr. Cadmus at Mrs Stephens' house in that sickness, two years before her last sickness; I don't recollect what was done when he was there; I do not recollect what night of the week it was I sat up; my daughters Maria and Sophia Bell sat up with me; I said before the Coroner, that she was sick before she had a heaving of the stomach, and she complained of her chest; I did not speak before the Coroner's Jury of my husband having bought arsenic; I was asked if I had seen arsenic at my brother's, and I said no; I said sister talked about rats. [Witness identifies two signatures to the evidence taken before the Coroner, as hers.] I said sister thought that rats annoyed her some; I testified that the said rats used to go up stairs to the door; I testified that I never heard Mr. Stephens say he would procure poison to kill rats; I never said before the Coroner that my husband bought poison to kill rats in my own house; from the time I was first called as a witness till I was last called before the Coroner, I never said anything about my husband buying arsenic; I never attempted to speak to the Coroner on that subject; it was after night when my husband bought arsenic of Flynn; it was in the latter end of July; I was coming home from my brother's with my husband; he came after me and went home with me; Stephens was in the house; my husband talked of rats being in my place; Stephens left the house with us; I went home direct from Stephens' house, only stopping on the sidewalk while my husband and brother went in to the doctor's; my brother then went home, and we came on home; my husband was at work while the Coroner's inquest was being held; my husband spread the arsenic on an old broken plate, on some potatoes or something; there were three or four other families living in the house; I don't remember the names; some of them live there yet; two or three of the families have moved away; I cannot say which have moved away; we lived on the top floor; there were four flights of stairs; I used to put things in the cellar, and the rats would eat them; I saw my husband place the arsenic in the cellar, where the butter and cheese were; the cellar was in the basement; every family had their own cellar; the partitions were of boards; I did not speak to anybody in the house about my husband having put arsenic in the cellar; I saw my husband come out of that store a second time with arsenic; he brought it home; I mean to say that I did not see him come out of the store twice with arsenic,—only once; the first arsenic was purchased in July, and the second in August; we were troubled with mice in the sitting-room closet; the arsenic was mixed and put on the shelf.

The Court here adjourned to this morning at the usual hour, when the cross-examination of this witness will be continued.

SUPREME COURT—SPECIAL TERM—March 15.

Before Justice Clerke.

Elise Haguire vs. Jacob Picard.—Motion to change place of trial denied with $10 costs to plaintiff to abide event.

Adam Stander vs. Louisa Stander.—Motion for alimony granted $2 per week and $25 counsel fees.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS—MARCH 15.

Before Judge Brady.

Benkard & Hutton vs. Rushmore, Cone & Co.—This action was brought to recover $3,327 54, the price of an invoice of dry goods purchased of the plaintiffs by the defendants, at the auction rooms of Wilmerding & Mount, auctioneers, in this City, on the 6th of November, 1857.

Among other conditions of the sale, the printed catalogue of goods contained the following provision:

"No allowance will be made for manufacturers' or printers' imperfections."

The defendants refused to pay for six lots of the goods purchased, on the ground that the lots were damaged beyond the extent contemplated by that condition, and that the plaintiffs were bound by other stipulations of the contract to take them back, unless an allowance could be agreed on, when the claim of damage should be made. The claim had been regularly made, an allowance refused by the plaintiffs, and the goods had been returned to the auction rooms. The price of the six lots returned was $1,019 58. The defendants, at the commencement of the suit, offered, under the provisions of the code of practice, to pay the remainder of the purchase money, viz., $2,374 64, but the plaintiffs refused to accept the offer.

On the trial the Court decided, as a question of law, that the words "manufacturers' or printer's imperfections" were subject to explanation by proof; and if they had received among commercial men in the City a particular meaning which had become by long usage general and certain, that meaning must control when the terms are used in commercial contracts.

The testimony showed that this condition or exception had been in use by importers in the City for about ten years; that the plaintiffs, if not the first, were among the first of their trade to adopt it, and that by general acceptance in the City, the terms "manufacturers' or printers' imperfections" include only such defects committed by those artists as do not materially affect the salable character of the goods, or, in other words, such defects as do not materially impair the fabric of the goods, nor their general appearance when exposed for sale, and that all excess is damage which justifies a claim by the purchaser, the goods not being subject to a particular examination at the time of sale.

The goods were block mouselaines, delaines, and satin stripes, printed in figures, composed of six and eight different colors; and the defects alleged originated in the misfitting of the block types, by which the face of the prints was impaired, showing frequent white or vacant spots in some places, and corresponding deep-colored or blurred spots in other places, and that such defects were general through the six rejected lots.

The questions of fact, therefore, at the trial were, whether the alleged defects existed, and if they did, whether they existed to so great an extent as to materially affect their sale.

On these points several of the most respectable importers, jobbers and buyers in the City were examined as witnesses, and much interesting and useful information relating to the manufacture of French goods was elicited.

The trial occupied five days, and created very general interest among commercial gentlemen.

After counsel for both parties had been heard upon the evidence, the Jury retired, under instructions from the Court, at about 2 o'clock P. M., and at 5 o'clock returned into Court, having agreed on a verdict in favor of plaintiffs for the precise amount which the defendants had offered to pay, to wit: $2,374 64; thus establishing the right of the defendants to return the goods for the alleged defects.

For the plaintiffs, Messrs. Emerson and Pritchard. For the defendants, Messrs. Capron and Lake.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS.

THE AUSTRIAN BANK FORGERY.

The trial of Henry J. Rohner, charged with counterfeiting notes on the Austrian National Bank, was resumed yesterday before Judge RUSSELL. Mr. Kazinski was sworn as interpreter, and rendered into English portions of the Bank charter, which showed that its title was that of "The Privileged National Bank of Austria;" that it had obtained the approval of the Austrian Emperor, and bore his signature and that of his Minister; that the privileges which that approval accorded were the same as those granted in 1817; that its business embraced the issuing of bills, exchanging and discounting notes, etc., and that the enjoyment of the privileges thus extended was guaranteed to continue until 1866.

Officer McDougall was recalled and further cross-examined for the defence. He arrested the prisoner on the 17th November last; took him directly to the office of the Police Superintendent; first saw the trunk in which the counterfeits were found on the 19th in the Deputy Superintendent's Office; the prisoner had been under arrest from the time of his apprehension by witness until that time.

Officer Keefe was also further cross-examined. He testified to having found the trunk on the 19th November, and to having taken it directly to the Deputy Superintendent's office; at that time he did not know that the prisoner had been arrested.

Prisoner's counsel then moved, as a matter of law, that the case be dismissed, inasmuch as the bills which were the subject of the charge, were not forgeries according to the statute, for they bore neither signatures nor serial numbers, but were mere printed pictures.

It was also moved that the District-Attorney be directed to make his election as between certain counts of the indictment which were claimed to be inconsistent, inasmuch as a conviction on one would involve an acquittal on the other.

The motions were denied.

Mr. H. L. Clinton then summed up the case for the defence on the merits.

Mr. Whiting closed for the prosecution. His address lasted until 5 o'clock.

In consideration of the lateness of the hour, the Judge suggested the propriety of deferring the delivery of his charge until this (Wednesday) morning. The Jury promptly acceded, and the Court adjourned accordingly.

SURROGATE'S COURT.

Estate of George Witherspoon.—In this case it appeared that one Elizabeth Tankard died in the year 1832, leaving a will by which she gave a legacy of about $10,000 to the said George Witherspoon, to be paid upon his attaining the age of twenty-one years; but in case of his death before that time the said legacy was to fall into the residuary estate of and go to the legatees therein named. In the Spring of 1848 Witherspoon, then aged nineteen, left the City of New-York to join the American army in Mexico, since which time he has never been heard from. On the 14th of November, 1857, the Surrogate issued letters of administration to the Public Administrator in the City of New-York, to whom the legacy was paid by the executor of Mrs. Tankard's estate.

The residuary legatees named in the will now come in on this accounting, and claim the legacy from the Public Administrator, on the ground that Witherspoon never attained his majority, and that the legacy was never vested in him. The claim was opposed by an aunt of the deceased, who, being his only next of kin, claimed that she was entitled to the whole of his estate.

The whole matter was submitted to the Surrogate for final decision, who held that the residuary legatees under the Tankard will case were bound to show, either by direct and positive proof, or by presumption of law, that the deceased died, before attaining his majority, which they have failed to do. The Surrogate further held that the presumption of law was, that a person was not supposed to be dead (in the absence of direct proof) until the expiration of seven years from the time he was last heard from; the case showed that the deceased was nineteen years of age when he left this City for Mexico, and consequently no presumption of his death could arise until he should have reached his lawful age, and passed it by several years. Therefore the legacy became duly vested in him.

The Surrogate decreed that the whole of the estate belonged to the aunt of deceased, and directed the Public Administrator to distribute the same accordingly.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

BRADSTREET'S COMMERCIAL REPORTS.
FOR BANKERS AND BUSINESS MEN.

The fourth Semi-annual Volume of this valuable record of credit, which was published on the 15th of January, having been exhausted by a rapid and extensive demand, a second edition of said volume, revised and corrected, has been issued, and is now ready for delivery to such as have not already supplied themselves with the work.

Several hundreds of the best Bankers and Merchants in the different cities of the Union have assisted in perfecting this REFERENCE RECORD, thus making it a capacious and reliable compend of the pecuniary condition and prospects, and business capacities of about [illegible] MERCANTILE FIRMS IN TWENTY-SIX OF THE PRINCIPAL CITIES AND CENTRES OF TRADE in the United States.

The New-York Merchant or Banker will accordingly find in a Key accompanying the Book, the grade of credit, character, habits, and capital of such as will be likely to deal with him, while the out-of-town Merchant will learn with accuracy the exact foundation on which the New-York houses base their business.

To provide for any possible errors that might occur in a work so GIGANTIC IN DETAIL, and to keep purchasers informed of the changes that must necessarily take place, the proprietors issue A PRINTED SHEET OF CORRECTIONS EVERY WEEK.

The time and trouble such a work must save, the losses it must prevent, and the influence it must have in securing a sound and profitable trade, make it invaluable to Wholesale Merchants, Manufacturers, Note Brokers and Banks of Discount; and yet the whole, including the two Semi-annual Volumes, the Sheet of Corrections, and the facilities of the office, is furnished to subscribers at ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS per annum.

Full particulars, not embraced in this advertisement, may be obtained at the office of the Proprietors and Publishers. J. M. BRADSTREET & SON.
No. 237 Broadway, New-York, over Broadway Bank.

LEONARD & JACKSON'S
"PATENT LIGHTS."
A CARD TO THE PUBLIC.

Having been creditably informed that persons have on one or more occasions endeavored to injure our business by false and malicious statements to the effect that the vault light which we manufacture and sell is an infringement of letters patent granted to Mr. Thaddeus Hyatt, we hereby notify those persons to desist from such defamatory statements, as we shall hold them personally responsible for damages.

Letters patent for the vault light which we are manufacturing was granted June 29, 1858, and, should it be questioned, we are fully prepared to defend our rights in the premises, and to show that we are not infringing upon the rights of Mr. Hyatt or any one else.
JACKSON & THROCKMORTON,

Nos. 55 to 67 Goerck-st., New-York.

HYATT'S PATENT LIGHTS.
A CARD HAVING BEEN ISSUED TO THE PUBLIC

By parties who frankly confess that they do not pay me for my invention, I avail myself of this opportunity to advertise the names of those who do. The following persons, only, are licensed under my patents in this City:
George R. Jackson & Co.
J. B. & W. W. Cornell & Co.
S. B. Althause & Co.
Ingalls & Case.
Theodore Hyatt.
The law is, that a person who purchases or uses a patented article is equally liable for infringement with the maker of it. The "makers" having fairly notified the "users" of their intention not to pay, the "users" have only themselves to blame if I collect my tariff of them—as I shall certainly do. THADDEUS HYATT.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The steamship City of Washington, now in her fourteenth day, had not made her appearance off Sandy Hook at 2 o'clock this morning. A northwest gale was blowing.

The question of the Extra Session of Congress has not yet been decided by the President, though a conclusion will undoubtedly be arrived at before the sailing of the next California steamer. The President and the Postmaster-General, together with the principal employes of the Post-Office Department, were in consultation yesterday, and subsequently the matter was considered in Cabinet meeting. By the 1st of June, it is estimated, a deficit will exist in the Department of four and a half millions.

Our Washington correspondent telegraphs that the Grand Jury have yet brought in no bill in the Sickles case. It was understood yesterday that one had been found against Mr. Sickles, but that the Jury were not agreed as to the case of Mr. Butterworth—the majority, however, being opposed to any action regarding him. No witnesses have been examined excepting those having immediate cognizance of the circumstances of the fatal encounter.

An arrival from Georgetown, Demerara, furnishes files of the papers of that port, to Feb. 25. The only news of interest relates to a rumored change in the Governorship, Governor Wodehouse retiring, and Ker Baillie Hamilton, Esq., the present Governor of the Leeward Islands, succeeding him. From Porto Rico the papers have information that the captured slaver was the bark Majesty, of Nova Scotian antecedents; that the real number of negroes landed was 982; and that their landing and the escape of the captain and owners were effected through collusion with the authorities.

Advices from Port-au-Prince to Feb. 26 evince that the Government is proceeding successfully in the introduction of reforms. A trifling outbreak had occurred at Jeremie, but had been repressed without difficulty. Gen. Geffrard was about reorganizing the national guard.

Very little of interest was done by the Legislature yesterday. In the Senate, a substitute for the bill reorganizing the Board of Health of this City was introduced by Mr. Noxon as a compromise. It does not abolish the office of City Inspector, but places the sanitary duties under a Board of Health, under which is a Superintendent of Public Health, who must be a medical man. Mr. Ely gave notice of a bill to reorganize the School Departments of this City. In the Assembly, a bill was introduced by Mr. Shaw, which provides that all persons imprisoned on civil suits in this City and County shall be maintained at the expense of the persons bringing the suits, otherwise the prisoner to be discharged.

A difficulty has arisen in the Elliott School in Boston, in consequence of the refusal of two or three hundred children of Catholic parents to join in chaunting the Lord's Prayer and the Ten Commandments, in conformity with the rules of the Public Schools. The School Committee and the Teachers insist upon the rules being adhered to, and a large number of the children have been dismissed.

At the meeting of the Governors of the Almshouse yesterday $225 were appropriated to repair the roof of the City Prison. A communication was received from Dr. Bird, saying in effect that one of his patients had recently died through the want of stimulus, the Governors having recently cut off the supply of whisky from Bellevue Hospital. Governor Smith's report, recommending that arrangements should be made with different institutions to take care of the nurse children, was called from the table and adopted.

The laborers employed by the New-York and Erie Railroad at Piermont, struck yesterday in consequence of the Railroad Company failing to pay their wages for several months past.

The crosshead of the steamboat Water Witch broke yesterday, while she was on her way to the N. J. Central Railroad terminus at Elizabethport, N. J., but although there were 150 passengers on board luckily no one was injured.

The testimony in the case of Rohner, charged with forging notes on the National Bank of Austria, was concluded late yesterday afternoon in the Court of General Sessions. Judge Russell postponed the delivery of his charge until the opening of the Court this morning.

Three boys were arrested yesterday by the Thirteenth Ward Police on suspicion of being burglars, and, after being locked up a short time, confessed to the officers that they had committed a large number of burglaries on the east side of the City within several weeks past.

A very serious accident occurred at Patchogue, L. I., a few days since, in consequence of the bursting of a mill-dam, by which the village was inundated, and very great damage done. Several mills and houses were carried away by the flood, and a large amount of property destroyed.

There were four burglars arrested in Brooklyn yesterday, and a considerable amount of stolen property found with them. The circumstance is entitled to special notice, for not a day occurs in which burglaries are not reported in Brooklyn; but it is very rare that we hear of any burglars being arrested. In this case two of the thieves were young men but old convicts, and one of them had been pardoned out of State Prison.

Mr. John A. Cross has signified his willingness to accept the Republican nomination for Mayor of Brooklyn.

The general Markets yesterday were quiet for Cotton and Flour. Wheat was in fair demand and was firm. Corn was depressed and unsettled. Provisions, Coffee, New-Orleans Molasses, Rice, and Linseed Oil, attracted more attention. Naval Stores were less active. Tobacco was in good request at full rates. Teas were freely sought after at buoyant prices. Sugars were moderately inquired for. Other branches of trade exhibited no important changes.

The Man of Eighty.—Gen. Geffrard, though not by any means an aged man, would appear to deserve the distinction accorded by the Cockneys to the Haytian Ambassador, whom those worthy people are accustomed to call "the man of 80;" or, in the Cockney vernacular, "'Aiti." Not only has Geffrard obtained entire control of the Government, but he appears already to have gained the confidence of the people, which latter gain we mention simply for what it is worth, and without attaching any peculiar significance or value to a possession so completely ephemeral. The last accounts from that country of mahogany trees and skins, state that on the occasion of Captain Phayre, of the British war-steamer Basilisk being presented to President Geffrard by the British Consul, the latter official took occasion to "allude in sneering terms to the late Government." We have all heard of a Black Swan, but we cannot recall any mention of a Black Lion, or we might here introduce Soulouque to point the application of a fable which would not be complimentary to the British Consul at Port-au-Prince. We are, however, glad to note that the mulatto President was magnanimous on the very point on which the white Consul was coarse and servile. Geffrard, far from encouraging the sneers of her Britannic Majesty's civil (or uncivil) representative, no doubt impressed with the conviction that "Haytians should govern Hayti," returned "a short and dignified reply." Well done, Geffrard!—undoubtedly the Man of Hayti.

European Intervention in Mexico.

That best of authorities, "Our own Correspondent," has reason to believe that the President does not apprehend any action on the part of the British and French squadrons now lying before Vera Cruz, that will either conflict with the Monroe doctrine, or seriously affect the political institutions of Mexico. What the precise grounds of this Presidential confidence may be, we are not as yet informed: but we have become so accustomed to the laissez faire policy of the Administration, that we can have no hesitation in accepting Our Correspondent's statement as precisely accurate.

Nothing, indeed, is more natural than that Mr. Secretary Cass, who has lived his whole life in the theory and practice of crying "wolf," should disbelieve in the said wolf's existence more profoundly than any other living man.

Wherever no possible motive can be discerned which should impel England, our natural ally and next friend among all the Powers of the earth, to do us a mischief, there Mr. Secretary Cass has always been the first to expose her "intrigues," and to denounce her perfidy. The "meteor flag" has been the bête noire, or as it may, perhaps, be more correctly put, the red rag of his existence. Of course, therefore, it would be idle to ask of him consistency and common sense enough for the actual crisis of foreign intervention before him in Mexico. There is nothing in particular to be said in this instance, and a great deal in general to be done. The case manifestly falls without his purview; since decisive evidence that the actual anarchy of Mexico has already been aggravated by European intervention and American indifference, abounds upon the files of the State Department.

It is to European intervention that the Church party at the Capital, owes in no slight measure its sudden revival and its present vigor; the chief agent of the said intervention being M. de Gabriac, the Resident Minister of France at Mexico, aided by his less active and less well-informed colleague, the representative of her Britannic Majesty.

These gentlemen, far more than priest or partisan, have effected the prostration of the Liberal interest. They recognized the conservative usurpation upon the expulsion of Comonfort. They have arranged its financial affairs; lent it pledges of direct military aid, at moments when it seemed on the verge of losing that prestige of strength and success, without which it must have yielded to the popular partiality for constitutional forms. They have used their flags to protect conservative treasures, have sheltered its leaders in their legations, and have lent the sanctity of their diplomatic characters to protect the dispatches of the conservative commanders. It was M. de Gabriac and the Hon. Mr. Otway who summoned the fleets now at Sacrificios to cripple the resources of the Constitutional Government by unexpected demands made upon the treasury at Vera Cruz and at Tampico. The character of these demands left no doubt as to their object. Had the protection of French and British subjects in their pecuniary rights been the only matter in question, it would have been enough to obtain payment of sums already due, and to make provision for the regularity of future disbursements. But the exactions did not stop here. The Constitutional Government was required to raise the tariff of imposts to a standard approaching prohibition, the obvious effect, and therefore the probable object, being to cut off the means by which the Liberal cause is sustained. This point conceded, it was promptly followed up by two additional demands—one that two Commissioners on behalf of the European Powers should be admitted to the Custom-house to take charge of the administration of the receipts; and the other that the whole revenue in excess of the amounts due to foreign creditors should be forwarded scrupulously to the exchequer of President Miramon. It was only the dogged resistance of the authorities under the Juarez Government that saved it from this fatal concession. Having made these demonstrations of hostility to the Liberal interest, and evinced, beyond the possibility of mistake, the desire to build up one party in the State at the expense of the other, the combined fleets have since remained within sight of the city, contributing, by their unfriendly attitude, to paralyze the movements and to depress the morale of the garrison. Meanwhile, the "cordial harmony" of the Saratoga with the allied fleets goes to impress the people of Vera Cruz with the idea that the United States are of the same mind with England and France, and that we too are anxious to see the government of Miramon victoriously installed throughout the Republic.

The course of M. de Gabriac and of Mr. Otway in this whole matter affords, it is true, no motive of quarrel on the part of this Government with either England or France. If the only great Power which is or affects to be interested in the successful establishment of Constitutional rule in Mexico, sends to that country Ministers either incompetent to meet the diplomacy of their colleagues, or fettered into imbecility by instructions from Washington, we have no right to be either angry or surprised at finding cleverer men with stronger convictions carrying the day in favor of centralization and despotism. The recent history of the United States has not contributed much to the personal beauty of Republicanism, and it will hardly do for us now to rely upon the intrinsic attractions of our own form of Government for countries over which we desire to have its influences borne. An able and independent Minister of the United States at Mexico might, during the past Winter, have done for Juarez and the Mexican people all that Messrs. de Gabriac and Otway have done for Miramon and the Mexican Church. Juarez had everything in him to provoke our good-will and sympathy. Sprung from that people of Zacatecas, with whom the indigenous and imperial memories of Anahuac have always survived, and whose turbulent independence of spirit more than once menaced the rule of Spain with overthrow during the Sixteenth and Seventeenth Centuries, the Liberal leader might have done what no man of the invading blood can ever do towards conciliating the great races which make up the Mexican nation. He has also shown himself most friendly to American influence when legitimately exercised. Whether the inertness, not to say ill-will of our Government, has left to him and his friends any hope of overcoming the vehement opposition of the despotic faction in the State, Mr. McLane will soon have an opportunity of learning, and as this gentleman, we believe, has never made any very flaming speeches in support of the "Monroe Doctrine," it is just possible he may really do something to give its principles force and effect.

An Extra Session.

Advices from Washington are conflicting and contradictory in respect to a called session of Congress. One day it is asserted that the President has stated to a Senator that he shall certainly convoke Congress at an early period; and the next gives birth to a statement equally positive that he has utterly refused to do anything of the sort. It is likely that the rumors both pro and con. are equally well founded; in short, that the Executive himself is in a severe quandary, inclining one way to-day and another way to-morrow. But this incertitude must come to an end, if not by the President's force of character, then through the resistless pressure of circumstances.

If any are solicitous to form an opinion beforehand as to the policy which the Administration is likely to pursue in this juncture of its affairs, the best way is to consider what course its embarrassments compel it to take. These embarrassments spring from the failure of the Post-office Appropriation bill,

The fiscal year ends on the 30th of June. Up to that time the appropriations of last year extend. But that year has bequeathed to its successor a deficiency of nearly four millions. The exact figures are $3,838,700. Commencing with this huge item, the last bill embraced a list of particulars, some large, some small, pertaining to the various branches of postal service, amounting in the aggregate to $19,560,000. It is the lack of this sum which cripples the Department and distresses the Administration. Well it may. After the last of June the Postmaster-General will have not a shot in the locker. The President has naturally a strong reluctance to call an extra session, for such sessions are the horror of politicians. But what can he do? How can the Post-office get on without help from Congress?

We attach no importance to the expedients of Mr. Gillett and others to make the Department a self-operating engine. If the Postmaster-General can appropriate the current income of his department without authority of law, why may not the Secretary of the Treasury, or the Department of the Interior do likewise? Why have appropriation bills at all? These paltry contrivances will never do, and are unworthy of sensible men.

Judging from the facts of the case, we must regard it as a necessity resting upon the President to convoke Congress before the first Monday of December, and there is strong reason for naming an early day. It is highly desirable, in view of the approaching close of the fiscal year, to have the extra session as early as June. But it is one of the difficulties of the case that some six or seven States do not choose their representatives till after the 1st of August. In view of this, Mr. Van Buren called his extra session in 1837 on the 4th of September. But, on the other hand, General Harrison, being pressed, as Mr. Buchanan is, by the condition of the Treasury, summoned an extra session for the 31st of May.

Several Cabinet meetings, it is reported, have already been held to consider this matter, but without arriving at any definite conclusion. The President is hesitating fearfully. With a House of Representatives more likely to sustain him he might possibly waver less. The probabilities are that the ultimate decision is reserved for the influence and energy of Judge Holt, the new Postmaster-General. He is understood to be a man of resolution and force, who will hardly consent to run his Department under bare poles till next Winter.

An extra session, under the new system of compensating members is somewhat less odious than formerly. Congressmen now receive each $6,000 for the entire two years' term, to which an extra session makes no addition except mileage, though this, in itself, to distant members, is a large item.

We can hardly doubt that a proclamation for a called session will issue within a fortnight, and that such session will be held in June.

Lynch Law in New-York.

The citizens of Ithaca seem disposed to bring on New-York a portion of the stain of barbarism which Lynch law has inflicted upon so many of our Southern and Western neighbors, and without the faintest show of reason or even of excuse. We had to record the other day the murder of a man in cold blood in a jail in Kentucky by persons who feared that if he were liberated he would probably do them some injury, and, stranger still, the justification of the act by a formal presentment of the Grand Jury. But Kentucky is, after all, Kentucky, and nobody expects to see in it the tenacious adherence to the forms of law on which communities like our own, which claim credit for a higher stage of civilization and more regulated impulses, generally pride themselves.

We have enough to complain of in the administration of justice in this State, Heaven knows, but the remedy is to be found in reforming the law and not in setting it at defiance or overriding it. If we suffer from bad Judges, let us take pains to elect better, or frame a better system of appointments. If we suffer from a lavish exercise of the pardoning power, impose restrictions on the Governor. If technicalities are found to pervert justice, let the procedure be reformed. The grand remedy is, in short, the same in every case: Go to the polls, and pay attention to politics. Reforms must be effected in a legal way, or they are not reforms at all When we seek to set matters to rights by the aid of the machinery provided by the Constitution, we know exactly how to begin and where we shall end. When we resort to Lynch law, we launch ourselves on a sea of troubles, and establish a precedent of which knaves as well as honest men may avail themselves.

We certainly have not been remiss in denouncing the gross abuses perpetrated under our present system of criminal procedure—the delays, the chicane and the sacrifice of substance to form which it admits of—but we certainly always thought, until now, that the citizens of this State knew better than to redress all these grievances by breaking open jails and lynching convicts. Bad enough to have such Courts and such laws as those by which Cancemi was tried, but still worse to have such citizens as the people who attempted to lynch Ruloff in Ithica the other day, and compelled the Sheriff, their own officer, to carry him out of the county for safety. What makes the matter all the more deplorable, is that probably no case of the failure of justice, which has occurred in many years, has presented so few objectionable features as this of Ruloff's. It is preëminently a case in which justice ought to fail. He is accused of the murder of his wife and child, who disappeared mysteriously fifteen years ago. No trace of them has ever since that time been discovered, and what has become of them no one knows. There is a strong case of circumstantial evidence against the husband and father; whatever is wanting is supplied by strong and, we confess, very natural popular prejudice. The probabilities are that he did make away with them somehow, and those probabilities are sufficiently strong, no doubt, to justify every respectable man in refusing to hold intercourse with Ruloff, or accord him anything beyond his legal rights. But the law requires, and has always required—not for his benefit, but for the benefit of the thousands who are every year liable to be made the victims of unlucky coincidences, and unfortunate appearances, and vague suspicions—that nobody shall be found guilty of murder unless it is shown that somebody has not only disappeared, but has been really murdered; unless the body is either forthcoming, or there were eye-witnesses of the homicide. This is no new rule, devised by the cunning wits of the judges of the Court of Appeals; nor is it an "exception" raised by a pettifogging lawyer. It is an old, well-established principle, framed for the protection of innocence, and justified by centuries of experience. Without it, every man's life would be at the mercy of any of his enemies who chose to have a fierce quarrel with him, and then disappear. Undoubtedly, it is unfortunate that it should in this instance avail a man whose guilt seems very plain; but inconveniences of this sort are part of the price we pay for liberty and security. Better ten Ruloffs, who have made away with their wives by violence, should escape, than that one Smith should suffer, if his wife should disappear without either his knowledge or connivance.

We should like these Ithacans to let us have their ideas of where these breaches of the law in guise of respect for justice are to lead us. We should like to know how, for instance, they can fairly expect the really vicious or idle to respect laws which the well-to-do and orderly trample under foot without hesitation, whenever they clash with their prejudices. One of the arguments most frequently used against despotism is that it respects the decisions of the Courts only so long as they accord with its own whims; but that the moment the Judge's dictum does not carry out the sovereign's wish, the citizen lies at his mercy. If we substitute mob or Vigilance Committee for tyrant, the story may be told of ourselves. These are considerations which might sound idle in Mississippi or Kentucky, but surely they have not yet lost their force in the latitude of New-York.

Progress of Events in Mexico.

The fuller news from Mexico is still more favorable for the Liberal cause than even its friends had permitted themselves to hope. Miramon, who would seem to be more impulsive than competent, had intended to reach Alvarado, where he would have recruited his troops, and whence he was to have marched northward towards Vera Cruz. Met and beaten at Cordova, however, he has retreated on Orizara, from which point his only course, in the way of an attempt to arrest the success of the Liberal forces, will be to retrace his steps towards the Capital. Unless, however, he moves with unusual celerity, he will scarcely be able to reach the City of Mexico as soon as Degollado, who has just beaten Col. Miramon, the brother of the President, and is coming from the North with his Liberals to establish the government of Juarez at the metropolis. Degollado will arrive there with the prestige of victory gained under very adverse circumstances. Miramon will enter Mexico, if he ever do enter it, with the disgrace of an overwhelming defeat, after the most vain-glorious boasting, more justifiable by his resources than by his military skill. The result of such a meeting promises to be all that the friends of constitutional liberty in Mexico could desire—for the present, at least.

Indeed, the chances seem to have completely turned at all points in favor of the Liberal cause, so that we may calculate on circumstances the most favorable for the recognition of the Juarez Government by Mr. McLane. Once in possession of the Capital and the seacoast, the Liberals can afford to despise the machinations of the Church Party—until the next revolution, of whatever description that may be.

Too Much for One.—It is frequently amusing to the metropolitan public to witness the vanity with which rural politicians imagine that New-York intelligence is to be bamboozled by the twaddle which is popular in the out-of-the-way places of the interior. Mr. Brown, notwithstanding that he has been in the United States Senate for several years, and has consequently had a chance of seeing more of active life than is ordinarily to be found in Natchez, is still only a Mississippi politician with an extremely rural mind. Mr. B. has accordingly conceived the remarkable idea that New-Yorkers, who really do know something of what is going on in the world, can be edified with such small talk as the following:

"In case of a war," said the bellicose Brown, "in case of a war with England and France, the chances are that we should see the American general hoist the stars and stripes over the Tuileries and the Palace of St. James."

Had the Senator made this explosive statement of "the Chances" in Natchez, "the chances are" that the Mississippi delegation would go to the Charleston Convention pledged, to a man, to nominate Brown for the Presidency. Having, however, ventilated this flummery in New-York instead, we take leave to submit whether the flagging of one of the palaces referred to, would not be enough work for an American General. The two points being some hundred and fifty miles apart, (which fact we mention for the especial benefit of Brown,) the hoisting in question could scarcely be done at the same moment by the same man, unless, indeed, that man were Brown; and we do not see, if even the feats are performed separately, why two American Generals might not share between them the glory of these highly-probable performances.

Completion of the State Canals.—The concurrent resolution offered in the Senate on Monday, by Mr. Prosser, proposes to amend the Constitution so as to permit a new six per cent. loan of $3,500,000, for the completion of the Canals. This sum, it is estimated, will be sufficient for that purpose, and also to meet the unpaid drafts of the Canal Commissioners, together with all construction damages. The resolution directs, in addition, that the Legislature shall provide for the entire completion of the canals at the earliest practical day, and before the 1st of May, 1861, when the construction account shall be finally closed and ended. The amendment thus introduced, in order to become operative, must pass the present Legislature and the next, after which it must be submitted to and ratified by a vote of the people. The canal construction account has run a long time, and cost a vast sum of money. The people will rejoice at any reasonable prospect of its being finally closed. But the canals have nevertheless more than paid their way. They have been largely drawn upon for public purposes in no way connected with their objects. Much as has been their cost, they are worth more; and great as their utility has undeniably proved, their value is but beginning to be understood. With the enlarged channel, and the employment of steam, their capacity will be greatly increased. But the growth of the West will find full occupation for all the routes to tide water, not excepting this, the cheapest and most efficient. The time has gone by when, through lack of correct information, it was feared by some that railroads would make water transportation obsolete. The State's wisest policy is, undoubtedly, to finish the canals at the earliest practicable period. Nothing but vexation and increased indebtedness can result from dragging the work through a series of years. What would be thought of a proprietor who should determine to leave his house unfinished until the rents should accumulate sufficiently to defray the building expenses already incurred?

Palmerston and Buchanan.—The London correspondent of a City paper relates a "good story" of Mr. Buchanan's first interview with Lord Palmerston, when His Lordship introduced the newly-arrived Minister to Lady Palmerston and her children. Mr. Buchanan, wishing to say a civil thing, remarked on the strong resemblance they bore to their father. The joke of the story lies in the circumstance that they were the offspring of her Ladyship's first husband, the Earl Cowper, and that her intimacy with her second husband commenced a considerable time before the death of the first one. The story is a very old scandal which was put in circulation many years before Mr. Buchanan went to England. The blunder was imputed to a French Ambassador, and whatever niaiseries Mr. Buchanan may have been guilty of, he is wholly innocent of this folly. If Mr. Buchanan has made mistakes in his administration of public affairs—and, that he has made a good many, his best friends must admit—that is no reason why he should be accused of being a boor in his manners, which even his worst enemies cannot justly lay to his charge.

Mr. Jones Refuses to be made a Minister.—Some days ago the President tendered to Ex-Senator George W. Jones, of Iowa, the mission to New-Granada, and, extraordinary as it may seem, Mr. Jones has declined the appointment. Such conduct is not often seen at Washington, where it is without precedent, and incredible that any man should refuse an office. But most events, however mysterious, are capable of explanation. It is said that Mr. Jones desires the Democratic nomination for Governor of Iowa, and is determined not to be sent out of the country, however much certain competitors may desire his absence. True, he may not be elected, but he prefers a prairie bird in the bush to any Bogota fowl in hand. Jones is pluck.

A Sale of Pictures.

The extraordinary success which attended a recent sale in this City of pictures by American artists, contributed as a fraternal offering to the family of the late William Ranney, was but one of many pleasant signs everywhere discernable of the increasing interest which our people take in Art. It would not be easy to find a more striking illustration than our galleries and printshops of to-day offer when compared with their predecessors of twenty years ago, of the national progress in refinement, taste and appreciative intelligence. The National Academy of Design, if it has not as yet produced for us any single artist of the highest merit, has done wonders in the way of raising the standard of artistic respectability; and its government now propose a very sensible arrangement for keeping their doors constantly open to the public, with a constantly changing exhibition of works by artists of New-York. This idea has, we believe, been already acted on with success by the Art Club of Boston.

To-night and to-morrow the rooms of the Academy will give us some notion of what we may expect to see when this change shall be fairly introduced. The Messrs. Goupil of Broadway have formed a collection, chiefly of American pictures, which will be offered for sale by Henry H. Leeds & Co. at that place. The list of to-night embraces some hundred oil-paintings; that of to-morrow an equal number, with the addition of a number of pastels, water-colors and drawings, by our best men. The foreign element in this extemporized gallery, so soon to be dispersed on its mission of beauty throughout the land, is altogether subordinate in point of quantity, but worthy special note in the matter of quality, embracing as it does Winterhalter's familiar and effective picture of "Florinda;" a capital piece of close and faithful animal painting by Verbockhoven, who has drawn a double inspiration from Paul Potter and from Edwin Landseer; two exquisite humanities by Laufant de Metz; and some D'Orsayish fancies of Alfred de Dreux, one of which, the "Forest of Fontainbleau," has higher merits than this artist's elegant pencil often attains.

Our domestic Art is abundantly and honorably represented, especially in the department of landscapes. Cropsey atones for his seeming indifference to the last year's exhibition of the Academy by showing us how vigorously and how successfully he has been, and is, at work in his charming English studio. His always striking gradations of light and color are rapidly developing into true master-pieces, as any one may satisfy himself by stepping either into the Academy or into Mr. Schaus' agreeable rooms. He sends to the sale in Tenth-street two charming souvenirs of the White Mountains, a thorougly Italian vision, the "Temple of the Sybil," and a lovely imagination of Coleridge's Genevieve, remarkable for the delicate truth with which the "'moonlight" and the "lights of eve" are really "blended o'er the scene." A single Church tempts the admirers of that artist, and does homage to the memory of Cole, whose vigorous brush also speaks for itself in two or three sketches. Kensett is here with some rocks and a river; Durand with a mountain view; Mignot with some wintry splendors; Gignoux with a repetition of his glowing "Dismal Swamp," now admired among the admirable pictures of the Bridgewater Gallery in London. Rossiter has lent a touch of Venice to Longfellow's "Priscilla," and warmed that young damsel with a life which we hardly think she would have known what to do with. Lambdin, of Philadelphia, whose promise in point of color his pencil is a trifle slow at keeping in point of drawing, gives us a glimpse of "The Lady Artist," most carefully manipulated and thoughtful. Casilear is numerous in sunny compositions, and the names of Hart, Doughty, Gifford, Coleman, Dana, Tait, all adorn the catalogue. Dalby offers a drove of cattle, and Ehninger his drawings illustrative of "Miles Standish's Courtship." There are cattle from Hinckley, of Boston; a most carefully painted landscape by Hubbard; a gleam of Lake Champlain by Guy. In short, the sale may in a manner be regarded as a brief Academy Exhibition open for "two nights only."

Attempt to Abduct a Young Lady.

OUTRAGEOUS ASSAULT BY A MYSTERIOUS FEMALE —ESCAPE OF THE ASSAILANT.

The neighborhood of Broadway, near Bleecker-street, witnessed, on Monday afternoon, the enactment of a strange and exciting scene, which, for the time being, caused great commotion, and which has since given rise to much curious conjecture. A young lady, the daughter of one of our most-highly respected citizens, whose fair fame the breath of scandal has never sullied, was not long since engaged to be married to a young Spanish gentleman, and the arrangements for the wedding had already been made. On Monday afternoon she dressed, in order to take a short walk on Broadway, and to make a few purchases. Just as she turned the corner of Bleecker-street into Broadway a carriage drove slowly past, and, stopping opposite to her, she noticed two ladies upon the inside, one of whom tapped with her finger on the carriage-window, and beckoned to her. Not recognizing the persons who were inside, one of whom continued to beckon with her finger, she hesitated for a moment when the door of the carriage opened, and the strange person addressed the young lady with—'Come, sis, get in here—we want to tell you something." The young lady, who had now stopped near enough to the door of the carriage to discover that the persons within were strangers to her, replied: "I do not know you—what do you wish?" "Oh! come, get in, do, and we will tell you; do get in, just a moment." The driver, at the same time, importuned the lady to enter. Mistrusting some wrong, she shrank back, and pursued her way upon the sidewalk, wondering what the mysterious invitation could mean. Shortly she was again overtaken by the same carriage, when the driver jumped from his seat, the door again suddenly opened from the inside, and the mysterious woman, now joined by her associate and the driver, all besought her to get into the carriage. Frightened at this last importunity of the strangers, she fled into a milliner's store near by, in great agitation, and related to the proprietress her strange adventure. After sitting a few moments she rose to go, and as she opened the door of the store she was met by the woman whom she had seen in the carriage, who sprang at her with great fury, exclaiming: "You b—h, you have been staying with my husband!" In an instant she had torn the beautiful velvet hat from the young lady's head, scratched her face and inflicted several heavy blows upon her face and eyes. The greatest consternation prevailed during the mélee, and in the midst of the excitement, and before the assailant could be arrested, she had fled.

The assault was so sudden and unexpected that the young lady could make but little resistance; in fact, she was almost instantly overpowered. It was some time before she could sufficiently recover from the attack to think or say anything. The lady of the store, however, ran out and tried to find a Policeman, —vain hope in such an emergency. Meanwhile the female apparition jumped into her carriage and escaped.

The outrageous conduct of the woman, and the vile language which she made use of, left but little doubt as to her true character. A carriage was sent for and the young lady was conveyed to her home, where her appearance in such a sad plight, and the relation of her strange adventures, caused the greatest excitement and distress. What the solution of the mystery can be no one appears, as yet, to understand. Was this young lady mistaken by some enraged woman for another person, supposed to stand in the relation of a rival? Has the young Spanish gentleman—horrible thought!—a wife already? What were the intentions of the two women; were they plotting an abduction and murder of their innocent victim?

The respectability of the lady involved in this unfortunate affair makes it proper to withhold her name from the public—the facts, however, are vouched for as we have stated them.

The Tombs, and Those Confined There.

A visit to the interior of the dismal temple of Justice in Centre-street, when the rays of sunlight struggle through the little windows of the cells, and glimpses of blue sky are caught by the inmates, gives one but a feeble idea of the Egyptian gloominess of the City Prison when the rain is falling on the roof, as it did yesterday, and everything within wears a lead colored hue, and men whose consciences are heavily-laden look downcast and talk little, or strive in vain with feeble attempts at merriment to overcome the influences of a dreary day in such a dreary place. There are indeed very few at present confined there who, so far as their acts are known, have committed those crimes of heaviest magnitude to which most surely the mind remorsefully turns back when the spirits are depressed and wandering thoughts give place to fixed reflection. There are plenty of criminals of the lowest class in the cells, convicted of larcenies and petty offences, many of them evincing a capability for higher crimes. Some are convicts, and some have been sentenced to the Penitentiary for longer or shorter terms. Many are awaiting their trial, and of these some are, doubtless, entirely innocent of the crimes with which they are charged. It is the misfortune of those upon whom suspicion fastens, under our penal system, that, be they ever so innocent of wrong-doing, they must be locked up with the lowest criminals often, until their innocence is established.

Shepard, who was to have been hung last December, having been convicted of arson, and who obtained a stay of proceedings on a motion for a new trial, which has not yet been decided, is perhaps the most notorious of those at present confined in the Tombs. The circumstances of his case are fresh in the public mind. We found him yesterday conversing, with a degree of cheerfulness which did not seem natural, with his sister, who, dressed in deep mourning, was standing outside the bars of his cell. The levity with which he spoke was by no means becoming to one situated as he is. He occupies a cell in the first of the four tiers, and seems to be comfortably provided for. His friends, of whom he says he has many, bring him better food than is provided by the City, and one of the keepers intimated yesterday that probably beverages more exhilarating than that which the City provides were smuggled into him by his friends. A pigeon is the companion of his confinement.

In the cell adjoining that of Shepard, pacing back and forth with hasty strides, with a dark cloak thrown over his shoulders and fastened to his breast by his crossed arms, we found a being whose countenance was certainly not the most handsome, nor his expression the most lamb-like that we have seen. His face was exceedingly pale, and seemed concentrated about his small, black eyes, which were just visible between the folds of cadaverous flesh which were gathered around them. His nose, of the same ghastly hue, was exceedingly broad and short, and looked as if it had been flattened against the bars of a dungeon ever since he was a baby. A moustache and beard covered the lower portion of his face, which was projected forward with an expression of hate which Shylock, disappointed in his revenge, might have worn. He seemed the personification of misanthropy. He did not speak English, but he informed us in French that his name was Jean Bosquet, that he was born in Rome, and that he "wanted a cigar," or "some money to buy one with." He was smoking a short pipe. He jabbered incessantly. When asked what he was imprisoned for, he answered that he did not know. The keeper informed us that he was originally confined for a felonious assault, and that since he was locked up he attempted to kill a man with whom he occupied the same cell. He was found one night, hacking away at his bed-fellow with a knife and fork. Moltino de Santez, upon whom Bosquet is alleged to have committed the felonious assault for which he was originally committed, died some time ago from the effect of the injuries thus received. Bosquet has a cell to himself now.

Quimbo Appo, the Chinaman, charged with killing Mrs. Mary Fletcher, and stabbing two other women, occupies a cell on the second floor, in company with Tobias Brown, who stands charged with setting fire to his own clothing store, No. 130 Division-street. Appo appears to suffer little from his confinement, and converses in good English freely. He says he came to this country ten years ago, "on business," and that he has been brought to his present condition by women. He has been in the Tombs a week. He says he has many friends in New-Haven and Philadelphia. His friends provide him with food. He wears a slight moustache, and is not especially prepossessing in his appearance. Neither is his dungeon-mate, whom we found exceedingly uncommunicative. He told us to ask his counsel what he was charged with, and further said not.

James and John Glass, James Higgins, John Quinlan and James Loftus, the parties charged with the murder of Richard Owens and Wilhelm Decker, in Elm-street, are also incarcerated in the City Prison, awaiting their trial. They are all young men, and none of them look malicious. John Glass and Higgins occupy one cell together; Quinlan and Loftus another; and on the fourth tier James Glass, the elder of the two brothers, has a cell to himself. He says he can readily prove an alibi, and expresses the hope that his trial will not be long delayed. He says his business is suffering and that he has a wife and four children dependent on him for support. He was born in New-Brunswick, N. J., but has lived most of his life in this City. He lately kept the "Break-of-Day" porter-house in Elm-street, near the place where the murder was committed. He talks intelligently and does not avoid the subject of the murder. His brother, who is about 23 years old, has been around the world. Loftus and Quinlan, whose trial will not take place until that of the two brothers Glass is finished,—neither will that of Higgins,—express their sorrow at the delay.

James Stephens, whose trial on a charge of murdering his wife is now progressing in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, occupies a cell at the Tombs nearly opposite to that of Shepard. They converse frequently, Shepard says, across the intervening passage-way, and Stephens expresses his confidence that the result of the trial will be his acquittal.

John Camack, better known as "Cheap Johnny," is in the Tombs, charged with arson. It is alleged that he set fire to his own store in Chatham-street. We found "Cheap Johnny" trading pocket books with a person who stood outside his cell, and after the transaction was completed, went off to get some tobacco for Camack. The prisoners are permitted to smoke as much as they please, and they seem to avail themselves pretty generally of the license allowed them in this regard.

Card from Mrs. Harrington.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

In perusing the columns of the Times, this morning, I was very much surprised at reading the following statement, in reference to my husband: "He remarked to his wife that unless he could keep from drinking liquor, that he would commit suicide by drowning, and it was supposed at the time to be a mere drunken jest," which is false in every particular, as my husband never made any such assertion, nor have I made any such statement.

MRS. M. HARRINGTON,
No. 143 Suffolk-street.

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

Governors of the Almshouse.—From the weekly statement submitted at the meeting of the Board yesterday afternoon, it appears that 7,991 inmates remained in the different institutions on the 12th inst. During the week preceding that date 1,428 were admitted, 21 died, 1,368 were discharged, 102 were sent to the Penitentiary, and 10 to the State Prison. On motion of Governor Smith notice was given that after the 1st of April the Superintendent of Out-Door Poor would cease giving out-door relief except in cases of sickness, old age, &c. That official was also directed to inform the extra clerks and yard-keepers, that after that date their services would not be required. Two hundred and twenty-five dollars were appropriated to cover the roof of the City Prison with India-rubber roofing, provided it would be warranted against leakage for five years. A letter from Dr. Biss in effect attributing the death of one of his patients to the Governors having cut off the supply of whisky from Bellevue Hospital, was communicated to the Board. Governor Bruenninghausen characterized it as highly impertinent. It was referred to the Executive Committee of Bellevue Hospital. Governor Gunther offered resolutions which were adopted, one directing the appointment of a Special Committee to inquire into the expediency of placing lights around Blackwell's Island to guide vessels passing up and down the channel; the other directing the Committee on Salaries to investigate the expediency of cutting down the salaries of the employes of the Board. Governor Smith's report recommending that arrangements should be made with some institution to take charge of the children now put out to nurse, was called from the table and adopted. Next Monday Engine Co. No. 2, of Hartford, propose to present a banner to the children on Randall's Island.

Further Preparations for St. Patrick's Day.—The delegates of the various Irish Societies which are to take part in the celebration of St. Patrick's Day, met again last evening at No. 42 Prince-street, Mr. O'Reilly in the Chair. The Committee appointed to wait upon the Mayor and Common Council and invite them to review the procession on St. Patrick's Day, reported that the invitation was accepted. The procession will march at 10½ A. M., and reach the Academy of Music at about 2 o'clock. There Bishop Michael O'Connor, of Pittsburg, Penn., will deliver an address. None will be admitted to listen to it except those who purchase tickets, which will be sold at 25 cents. The proceeds of the occasion are to be added to the fund which Bishop O'Connor is collecting in this City for the purpose of rebuilding his church at Pittsburg, recently destroyed by fire. In the evening many of the Hibernian Societies will give balls. It is expected that the military display will not be diminutive. The Sixty-ninth Regiment, the Lancers attached to the Eleventh Regiment, and Captain Minturn's Regiment of Dragoons, attached to the First Regiment, will parade with the civic procession; and the Emmet Guard, of New-Haven, and several Brooklyn and Newark Irish military companies will join it.

Salting Broadway.—The effects of salt water on Broadway, during the past season, in preventing horses from slipping, have been so remarkable as to induce the association of merchants having charge of the cleaning of that street to instruct the contractor to try the experiment, for a few days in dry weather, of sprinkling the street, immediately after cleaning it, with brine, that the matter may be fully tested. This interesting experiment commenced on Monday, and will continue during the week. The plan adopted by the contractor, we learn, is to sweep the whole street surface every night with the machines, and then to sprinkle the street with brine or salt water. He also has men out in the morning, from 8 to 11 o'clock, to sweep up and remove such refuse as may be thrown in the street from sidewalks or stores. Thus the street will present a clean and comfortable appearance, passable for ladies at any point, at all times, and secure for horses to travel on at the same time.

Accident to a Steamboat, and Narrow Escape of Passengers.—Last evening, at 5 o'clock, the steamboat Water Witch left this City for Elizabethport, N. J., with about 150 passengers, who were to take the cars of the New-Jersey Central Railroad at Elizabethport. When the steamer was under full speed, off Robbin's-Reef Lighthouse, a terrible crash was heard, which created great consternation among the passengers. The cause of the crash was the breaking of the cross-head of the engine, and one of the pieces came within a short distance of the engineer. The boat came to anchor, and part of the passengers returned to the City on the steamer Hunchback. The Water Witch is alleged to be an unseaworthy craft, and has no Inspector's license. With so many passengers on board it is surprising that no one was injured.

The Pittsburg Cathedral.—Bishop O'Connor, of Pittsburg, is on a visit to this City for the purpose of raising funds to rebuild the Roman Catholic Cathedral recently destroyed by fire in Pittsburg. The Sixty-ninth Regiment of our State Militia and the Irish Convention of this City have united in requesting him to deliver an oration before them on St. Patrick's Day, at the Academy of Music, the proceeds of which will be devoted to the furtherance of his object. He has accepted the invitation. It is certainly a somewhat remarkable circumstance that a regiment of State Militia should be composed of members so unanimous in religious faith as to be able to unite in such a movement as this.

Almost a Calamity.—On Monday night last Mr. W. T. Pelton, of New-Lebanon, and Mr. H. C. Allen, of the District Attorney's Office, were seated in a carriage at the door of the St. Nicholas Hotel, when, during the temporary absence of the driver, the horses took fright and dashed away at a tremendous pace. They were headed off about Howard-street, when they turned around, and rushed back, zig-zagging the road and threatening everything that came within their reach. The gentlemen threw themselves out, and were rolled over and over, receiving no contusion, but being most miserably immersed in the mud that is allowed to congregate at the corner of Houston-street. Mr. Allen lost his gold spectacles, which were afterwards restored to him. As he very narrowly escaped a dislocation of the shoulder, he may esteem himself fortunate.

A Man Missing.—Mr. W. H. Andrews, a dealer in bedsteads, who was in the habit of attending to the reception and sale of the articles at the dépôt of the Harlem Railroad in Centre-street, has been missing since Friday last, and his friends entertain the most serious fears for his safety. He was last seen on Friday at 5½ o'clock in the afternoon, at the foot of Grand-street. He had collected a check on that day which has not been used. He was a native of Hinsdale, Mass., was 46 years old, and lived in Brooklyn, where his family resided, at No. 250 Hicks-street.

A Lady Missing.—Miss Catharine M. Bingham, a single lady aged thirty-one, has been missing since last Friday. She left her residence, No. 138 East Eighteenth-street, in the afternoon to take a walk, and has not since been heard from. She is represented as an accomplished and intelligent lady, and as having been a contributor to various papers and magazines. She is of medium height, delicate features, pale face and black hair.

Trouble Among the Railroad Employes at Piermont.—The laborers employed on the New-York and Erie Railroad at Piermont, having received no money from the Railroad Company for several months past, yesterday knocked off work, and refused to do anything more until they received their back pay. It is feared there will be trouble there to-day, and in case any disturbance should arise a body of armed policemen will be dispatched from this City.

The Bethel Ship.—The Christian Advocate and Journal says the congregation of Scandinavians, which was convened in the ship on Sabbath morning last, gave, upon call, without any previous notice, $60 for the cause of missions. This is characteristic of sailors; they are generally liberal.

Police Reports.

Juvenile Burglars Arrested and Recovery of Stolen Property.—While officers Ostrander and Smith were perambulating the Thirteenth Ward on Monday afternoon, they noticed three young men acting in a manner which induced the officers to suppose they were thieves, and they were accordingly arrested and taken to the Thirteenth Ward Station-house, where they gave the names of Michael Corcoran, aged 17; John Garrup, aged 16; and John Carnan, aged 19. After being confined in the cells for a short time the boys were induced to make a confession. They stated that some time since they entered into a copartnership to transact a "burglarious business," and from their statement it appears they have been quite a successful firm. On the 8th instant they "cracked" the dwelling-house corner of Fifteenth street and First-avenue, occupied by Mrs. Roberts, and stole silk dresses, jewelry, and a lot of unmade clothing, amounting to nearly $250. Two nights afterwards the residence of Mrs. Wood, No. 3 Ridge-street, was entered by the trio and a large amount of clothing and jewelry stolen. The next night they visited a dwelling corner of Eighth-street and Avenue A, and took away a large amount of clothing and jewelry. The night following, the residence No. 37 Essex-street was robbed by the youthful burglars, and just as they seized a gold watch and chain, they heard some of the inmates of the house coming down stairs, and, becoming frightened, they fled. Another burglary was committed a few days afterwards, in which several suits of fine clothing were secured by the young rascals. The residence corner of First-avenue and Fifteenth-street was robbed the same night of clothing valued at $50. The house of Robert Wilkins, corner of Third-avenue and Fifth-street, was robbed of a silver goblet and a gun. The house of Mrs. Long, corner of Eldridge and Hester streets, of a fine opera cloak, silk dresses, &c., worth about $150. A friendly call was made at Mrs. Elizabeth Henney's house which was robbed of table covers, jewelry, shawls and dresses. As soon as the boys confessed the above robberies the policemen set about recovering the goods stolen, and most of the property was recovered by them. The property was found mostly in the hands of two well-known receivers, who were arrested last evening. Besides the burglaries mentioned, the boys confessed to having committed nearly a dozen others.

Another Burglary and Arrest of the Alleged Burglars.—The tobacco store No. 28 Columbia-street was burglariously entered on Monday night and about $300 worth of tobacco stolen. Officer Jas. H. Symington, of the Thirteenth Ward arrested two colored men named George Reed and Edward Williams on suspicion of being the burglars, and recovered nearly all the property stolen.

Heavy Burglary—Remissness of Some of the Police.—During the storm on Monday night another burglary was committed in the Third Ward. As a number of very heavy burglaries have been committed in that Ward within a year past, amounting in all to nearly $50,000, it is to be hoped the Police Commissioners will institute an investigation as to the manner in which the Policemen of that locality perform their duties. From the statement rendered to the Deputy Superintendent, it appears that the store of Messrs. Frost & Cushman, No. 59 Murray-street, was broken into and nearly three hundred dollars worth of Pongee silks stolen. The manner in which the thieves entered the place was by unlocking a front door leading to the upper floors with false keys; they then closed the door, and, cutting out a panel of a side door leading to the store, which is situated on the first floor, they entered the premises, and stole the goods, which were, no doubt, taken away on a cart almost under the noses of the watchful Metropolitans. It is worthy of remark that another burglary took place several weeks since within two blocks of the scene of the burglary mentioned above, and at the time the police refused to give information to the reporters.

Bartender Beaten by a Rowdy.—Peter Deming, a bartender at Mat Gooderson's drinking saloon in Chatham-street, was badly beaten on Sunday morning by Jeremiah Donovan, a noted Fourth Ward rowdy—so badly that very little hope is entertained of his recovery. It appears that at 5 o'clock in the morning Donovan called at Gooderson's place, and demanded admittance, which the bartender refused. Donovan kicked at the door till Deming opened it, when he immediately assaulted the latter in the most inhuman manner, choking, biting, striking and kicking him until he was unable to stand. Deming cried "Police," and a Fourth Ward policeman came and arrested his assailant. The officer first took a drink in a neighboring saloon with Donovan, and then took him to the Station-house. In a short time Recorder Barnard came and discharged the prisoner. Yesterday afternoon Officer Wilson rearrested Donovan on a warrant issued by Justice Welsh. The magistrate held him to bail in $1,000 to answer a charge of felonious assault.

Arrests by the Harbor Police.—Officer Lee arrested early Monday morning one of the crew of the brig Cuba lying at Pier No. 2 East River, and a boarding-house keeper, with a large quantity of sugar concealed in the sailor's clothing. They were in the act of taking it away when arrested and locked up for examination. Officers Holland and Lee discovered yesterday 10 barels of molasses and about 600 pounds of sugar concealed on board the schooner Charles from Attakapas, lying at Pier No. 3 East River, which was supposed to have been stolen from the cargo by some of the crew. The owner of the cargo, Mr. C. P. Leverich, was notified, and took charge of it. Officer Quigly arrested one of the crew of the brig Exemplar, lying at a wharf in Brooklyn, with a large quantity of sugar in his chest and clothing. He was taken before Justice Welsh for examination.

Prevalent Complaint.—Josephine Jones, a young and lovely damsel, aged 17 years, residing at Mount Vernon, Westchester county, made a complaint before Justice Stevens, of that place, on Saturday last, charging Gilbert Pease, a young man 22 years of age, of this city, of seducing her under promise of marriage, and that for a fortnight she has been enciente. A warrant was forwarded to Detective Houston, of this city, who arrested Pease on Monday at the machine shop of Pease & Murphy, where he was employed, and he was forwarded to Mount Vernon to arrange matters.

A Fast Youth and Pistols.—Francis N. Merritt, a young man of alleged fast proclivities, on Monday night paid a visit to the basement of No. 118 Centre-street, a drinking saloon where bad liquors and questionable young ladies abound. Merritt, after becoming inflamed with the liquor, began to kick over the stove and demolish the furniture and glass-ware. The proprietor remonstrated, and he replied by dashing a tumbler of liquor in his face, and, on being further remonstrated with, drew a revolver and threatened to shoot him. An officer finally arrested Merritt, and yesterday Justice Connolly committed him to the Tombs.

A Bogus Inspector of Milk.—A pock-marked youth, giving his name as John Hodges, was detected, at an early hour yesterday morning, coming out of the milk dépôt of Thomas McDonald, No. 94 Henry-street. He told the officer that he was a Milk Inspector, appointed by the Common Council, and that he had visited the place in the discharge of his regular duties. Some burglar's tools found on him, and $5 in pennies belonging to Mr. McDonald, rather shook the officer's confidence in his statement, and he was accordingly taken to the Station-house. Justice Steers locked him up for trial.

Selling Diseased Chickens.—James, Henry and Emory Abrams, three brothers, were yesterday arrested charged with offering diseased chickens for sale at Fulton Market. They were taken before Justice Welsh, who fined them $5 each. They promptly paid the imposed fine and then went away rejoicing, evidently congratulating themselves that they had got off cheap. When arrested they had 35 pairs of chickens undisposed of.

BROOKLYN INTELLIGENCE.

Exciting Time at Patchogue.

THE VILLAGE OVERFLOWED—GREAT DESTRUCTION OF PROPERTY.

The waters at Patchogue, Long Island, have created quite an excitement recently. A few days ago the dam of a pond—a large sheet of water known as the "Upper Lake" and which supplies a number of mills—gave way, from causes at present unknown, and the water rushing with great force into the "Lower Lake" caused the lower dam to give way, letting the whole body of water flow in a torrent through the village. Much damage was done to buildings and other property, but fortunately no lives were lost. The dam gave out at a little before 5 o'clock in the morning, when most of the residents of the neighborhood were in bed, and the sudden submerging of their houses took them by surprise—some say they thought the last day had arrived. The first house attacked by the invading element, was one occupied by a Mr. Ging. He, with his family, escaped to high ground in their night-clothes, but were compelled to wade in a swift current where the water was waist-deep, and it was with the greatest difficulty they reached a place of safety. The house withstood the shock, but everything movable was carried away, and all of their provisions were destroyed. The building known as the "Albion Hotel," occupied by Mr. Palmer, was the next to suffer. When Mr. Palmer and his wife were aroused the water was ankle-deep on the floor of their bedroom. They were so much alarmed that they rushed out of doors, leaving their children in the second story of the house, and were carried away in the current. Fortunately they floated near a tree, and were saved by clinging to its branches. The children remained in the house, and escaped without injury. Much damage was done at Brewster Woodhull's cotton mill. A portion of the mill was demolished, and wheels with heavy iron shafts were floated off some distance. One machine on the lower floor floated off and was subsequently found in a field adjoining. The bridges and aqueducts in the vicinity were all torn up and carried away. A large willow tree was wrenched up by the roots and landed half a mile from its former position, where it is likely to grow again as though nothing had happened to it. The total amount of damages is estimated at $30,000, and about fifty people are thrown out of employment. This same dam broke away about fifty years ago.

The Last Rumor of Corruption—The Story of the Black Crows Again.—The movement in the Kings County Board of Supervisors to purchase additional land for county purposes has created considerable feeling, and, at the last meeting but one of that body, Supervisor Sneeden, of the Fourth, when speaking against the purchase of the Crook farm at Gravesend, intimated that improper influences had been brought to bear upon members to secure their votes for that site. When questioned as to facts, he stated that if a committee were appointed, he could make some statements that would astonish the community. At the next meeting of the Board a Committee of three, consisting of Supervisors P. G. Bergen, Wall and Dick, was appointed, armed with the necessary power to investigate the charge of corruption. That Committee, in the discharge of their duties, held a meeting yesterday, when Supervisor Sneeden was placed on the witness stand. He swore that Supervisor Stryker, of Gravesend, told him that he (Stryker) had been offered $500. That was all he knew about it. Mr. Stryker was next sworn. He was asked if he had been offered $500 for his vote. After hesitating a little he said that he had not been offered $500, but had been offered $200, and finally said that Sheriff Remsen had made the offer. Sheriff Remsen was placed on the stand. He said that he met Supervisor Stryker in an eating-saloon one day, and the conversation turned upon the proposed purchase of the Crook farm, and he jocosely remarked that there was money in it, and something to the effect that a vote was worth one or two hundred dollars. Mr. Remsen said he had no interest in the matter, and had not been approached on the subject to use his influence; that the remark was made in a jocular way, as such remarks are often made in loose conversation. This is all the statement of Supervisor Sneeden was based upon. The Committee will make their report at the next meeting of the Board, to be held on the 23d inst.

Plymouth Church.—A meeting of the Society of Plymouth Church was held last evening, agreeably to a call of the Trustees, for the purpose of definitely settling upon the location of the new Church. At a previous meeting the Trustees were authorized to select and purchase a site. After great pains-taking, some forty meetings, and a full canvass of the merits of each location, the Trustees selected fourteen lots upon Montague-street, west of Hicks, and running back to Remsen street. The price was $54,000. Though fully authorized to go ahead and build, the Trustees preferred to receive the indorsement of the Society, and the meeting last evening was called for that purpose. Contrary to expectation, there was considerable contrariety of opinion as to the propriety of the location selected, the main objections being that it was not central enough, and would not accommodate the poor parishioners. This class strongly urged the purchase of the Military Garden lots, back of the City Hall. To this site it was objected that only 25 feet front could be obtained on Fulton-avenue; also, that it was the focal point of travel, where the cars and the Sunday pleasure drivers would be a continual annoyance. The meeting continued until a late hour, during which there was a lively but good-natured discussion kept up. When our reporter left there was much unanimity in favor of the location selected by the Trustees as everyway the most eligible, cheap, central, accessible, (for both cities,) and ornamental. Mr. Beecher also strongly favored this location.

Important Arrest of Thieves.—At an early hour yesterday morning Officers Van Dyke and Lyons, of the Fifth Precinct, arrested four noted thieves, named John McGrath, Thomas Rodgers, alias Roxey, James Quinn and Henry Courtis, and found in their possession stolen property valued at $300, consisting of a general assortment of clothing, some pieces of which are marked "Mary A. Riker." This hopeful quartette were found in an unoccupied building on First-street, near North Tenth, which they had appropriated to aid them in carrying out their various schemes of robbery. McGrath was some years ago sent to State Prison for four years, having been convicted of rape in the Court of Sessions. He was pardoned before he had served his full term. Rogers was convicted of setting fire to a distillery, on First-street, but, by some arrangement, was sent to the Penitentiary instead of the State Prison.....Three men, named Henry N. Elliott, Henry Morrison and John H. Bogert, were arrested in Canarsie, yesterday, by Officer Frost, for grand larceny, on complaint of A. Meyers, Wreck-master, who accuses them of having stolen property to the value of $50, from the wreck of the Black Warrior, which is in his charge. The accused were brought before Justice Voorhies, when they gave bail to answer before the Court of Sessions.

Items.—The Hon. John A. Cross has signified his acceptance of the nomination for the office of Mayor of Brooklyn, tendered him by by the Republican Party....A child only a few days old was on Monday night left at the door of house No. 14 Sidney-place. It was sent to the Almshouse yesterday.... At a meeting of the citizens of the Eleventh Ward Monday night, the following Independent ticket was placed in nomination: For Alderman—Wm. W. Walsh. For Supervisor—Thomas T. Bailey. For Constable—Daniel B. Applegate....A little son of Mr. Faulkner, residing at the corner of Myrtle-avenue and Schenck-street, died yesterday morning from burns received the night previous. The boy was alone when the accident occurred, and his own story, told while suffering the most excruciating pain, is all that was elicited before the Coroner as to the cause of the accident. He lighted a piece of paper at the stove and the fire was thus communicated to his clothing....There are only 12 men now employed in the Civil Engineers' Department at the Navy-yard. ....The Rev. Dr. Scudder, of India, last evening delivered a lecture in Plymouth Church before the Young Men's Christian Association, on the physical features, &c., of India....The Americans last evening elected three delegates in each Ward to represent them in a City Convention to nominate candidates for Mayor, Comptroller, Auditor and Treasurer. It is understood that they will indorse the nominations made by the Republican Convention for the same offices....The petitioners for a new Park to be located in the vicinity of "Darby's Patch," Tenth Ward, ask to have it called "Douglass Park," after the gentleman bearing that name representing them in the Board of Aldermen.... During the thunder-storm last week, two houses were struck by lightning at Patchogue. The fluid passed down the chimneys without doing much damage to the premises....The Common Council has reinstated Engine Companies Nos. 8 and 13, of the Eastern District Fire Department. These Companies were disbanded last year for acts of rowdyism....A meeting of those citizens opposed to the Water and Sewerage acts now before the Legislature was held last evening. The meeting was a tame affair....The child of Mrs. Lee, burned so severely by the explosion of a fluid lamp at No. 154 Fourth-street, Eastern District, died on Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Lee, who were burned at the same time, are not seriously injured ...The new bell for the City Hall will be placed in position sometime this week, if no accident happens to prevent.

Later from Hayti.

SPEECH OF THE BRITISH CONSUL—OUTBREAK AT JEREMIE—PROGRESS OF THE REPUBLIC.

We have received files of Hayti papers to Feb. 26, with over a week's later intelligence.

Captain Phayre, of the British war vessel Basilisk, who had come to protect the interests of British residents, was presented, on the 4th ult., to President Geffrard by Mr. Byron, English Vice-Consul, who took the opportunity of making a long, congratulatory speech to the new President. He alluded in sneering terms to the late Government. Geffrard's reply was short and dignified.

An insurrection against the new Government had already occurred at the small town of Jeremie, of which Le Republique gives the following account:

"Col. Noel, sent by the President, proclaimed the republic at Jeremie on the night of Jan. 17, and the entire populace received it with enthusiasm. General Delice Lesperance, then Governor of the Department of Jeremie, had apparently accepted it like the others, but his adhesion was only feigned. He speedily threw off the mask, and on the 10th of February took possession of a fort that commanded the town, and thence sent agents to incite the people. But these, far from being taken in by his fallacious promises, had the good sense to answer that they knew the President Geffrard, that they were content under his Government, and wished it every success. Seeing himself lost, Lesperance asked and obtained the protection of the French Consul, with whom he remained until his departure for the capital." At Port-au-Prince Lesperance awaits, with two accomplices, a trial.

An attempt was made by an excited mob to break into and destroy the house of M. Salomon, the ex-Minister of Finance under Soulouque. The President managed to quell the excitement, and M. Salomon had sought refuge on the British ship Basilisk.

A deputation, composed of MM. Toussaint, Senator, T. Madiou and Granville, will shortly depart for Europe, to notify officially the Governments of England, France and Spain the establishment of the new Haytian Republic.

Geffrard had decreed the reorganization of the National Guard.

RUMORED CHANGE IN THE GOVERNMENT—THE WRECKED SLAVER AT PORTO RICO.

We have the Georgetown papers to the 25th February. The Royal Gazette alludes to rumors to the effect that Governor Wodehouse is about to leave the colony, having been promised a lucrative office in the East Indies, and that Ker Baillie Hamilton, Governor of Antigua and the Leeward Islands is to assume the Government of British Guiana. The weather was showery, and produce came on slowly, and there being much shipping in the harbor, freights continued low.

The steamer Toro, at Georgetown, from Porto Rico, reports that the vessel captured off that coast in the early part of February, was the bark Majestic, and that she had 1,080 young Africans on board when she left the River Congo for Cuba. The American Captain made his escape in a British schooner, and the Spanish Captain and owner escaped to St. Thomas. The vessel was visited by the authorities of Porto Rico, and 982 of the slaves were landed at Humanacao. Of the rest, some were taken on board a Spanish man-of-war, which was in the neighborhood, and the remainder, who were too sick to be removed, were left on board the slaver, in charge of the authorities in the neighborhood. The abandonment of the vessel, the flight of the Captain and the owner, and the taking of the young slaves into Porto Rico, have much the appearance of collusion.

COMMERCIAL.

Georgetown, Friday, Feb. 25.

Two arrivals from the United States have added to previous supplies, but as the advices of an advance in prices of Breadstuffs on that side have been fully borne out, stocks here are held for higher rates. No Mess Pork in first hands—last rates $24 50 ⅌ bbl. Produce still scarce. Improved prospects both in the English and American markets have given an upward tendency to prices. Freights unchanged. Weather showery.

Pernambuco—State of the Markets.

By an arrival from Pernambuco, we have advices from that port to Feb. 14. The following was the state of the markets on that day:

Sugar—Large purchases have been made during the month; and since the sailing of the last steamer for Europe, a rise of 10 ⅌ cent. has taken place in brown kinds, owing almost entirely to the decline of Exchange, which has taken place here; our supplies from the interior continue to be on an increased scale, and exporters seem anxious to purchase, even at these elevated prices; the qualities of Sugars are far superior to what they have been for some years. The entries since our last monthly report have been 179,564 bags, or 12,826 tons, against 10,057 tons during the same time last year: and the total entries since the 1st October last are 31,026 tons, against 30,490 tons during the same period of last crop. The shipments during the month have been 10,173 tons, and the total shipments since the 1st October last, have been 24 182 tons, against 24,017 tons during the same period of last crop.

Hides—Sales have taken place to some extent at 230@235 rs. ⅌ ℔.; and we consider the last rate our quotation to-day.

Codfish—There have been eleven arrivals with 24,496 drums, which sold at prices varying from 11‖000 ⅌ drum, cash, to 13‖200 ⅌ drum, credit; three vessels with 6,848 drums and tubs, proceeded to Bahia and Rio de Janeiro, (of which one cargo was sold here,) and the stock which last month was 14,500 drums, is now 11,000 do., leaving 27,996 drums for the month's supply of city and out-ports.

Flour—The receipts have been 16,018 bbls., viz.: 2 500 New-Orleans, which sold at something less than 15‖ ⅌ bbl.; 2,339 bbls. from same destination of good brands, sold at 17‖000 ⅌ bbl.; 599 bbls. from New-York, of various brands, at 16‖000 ⅌ bbl.; 1,200 bbls. Philadelphia different brands sold at a price not stated; 2,175 bbls. Trieste sold at 20‖500 ⅌ bbl.; and 6,615 bbls. American. 200 bbls. Genoese, and 300 bbls. from Rio de Janeiro are retailing by the importers. Two cargoes and one-half do., or 10 202 bbls., proceeded to the South, and the stock which last month was 16,000 bbls., is now 22,000 bbls.; leaving 18,048 bbls. for the month's supply of city and outports.

Reduction of Postage to Wurtemberg, Germany.—We are requested to state that the single rate of letter postage between the United States and Wurtemberg, via Bremen or Hamburg Mail, will in future be 15 cents the single rate, prepayment optional. The rate by the Bremen and Hamburg lines has heretofore been 22 cents. The reduction results from the act of the Kingdom of Wurtemberg, in joining the German-Austrian-Postal-Union.—Washington Union.

Remarkable Developments in Counterfeiting.

From the Utica Observer, March 11.

The arrest and examination of several counterfeiters of gold and silver coin, in Essex County, by Deputy United States Marshal Schuyler Hubbard, has revealed some curious facts. Upon the person of James H. Farnsworth, one of the persons arrested, was found a certificate of membership in a certain "Mystic Circle of Alchemy." There was also found in the possession of Farnsworth a book of some 300 pages, containing the rules and regulations of the "Mystic Circle of Alchemy," but principally devoted to a full explanation of the processes of galvanism and electrotyping, as applied to gold and silver plating, and the making of dies and moulds. It also gives numerous receipts for mixing metals so as to produce cheap compounds resembling gold and silver. As the publisher of the book is now in custody for counterfeiting, and the sale of the book is arrested, there is no danger to the public in making these facts known. It appears from the book, (which has been extensively advertised in a quiet way,) that any person paying $5 was instructed in the secrets, received a certificate of membership in the "Mystic Circle of Alchemy," and a copy of this book, containing full instructions for imitating coins and for plating base metals by the most approved scientific methods. We are unable to state how far the "Mystic Circle" extends, but as success in circulating counterfeit coins requires the concert of a number of persons, it cannot be doubted that the operators have made large use of the fraternity and secrecy which such an association would afford. However this may be, it is certain that the influence of the book has been most pernicious. In several districts in Northern New-York, particularly in Essex County, large numbers of persons have been seduced from honest occupations by the tempting opportunity seemingly afforded for getting rich without labor, and have entered the nefarious business of manufacturing counterfeit coin. The business is carried on to a large extent in the deserted iron mines of that region. Although but a few persons have been arrested, general suspicion rests upon hundreds of others who pursue no regular business, and have no apparent means of gaining a livelihood. In other parts of the State the officers are closely watching the movements of individuals who are suspected of the same crimse.

To Capitalists and Real Estate Owners.—The principal member of a well-known mercantile firm, unfortunate in the crash of '57, desires to take agencies for the collection of rents, dividends, the letting of houses, stores, &c.; or to act as the business agent for executors, trustees, or those who may wish to avoid the trouble of the various details of such business. If preferred, a certain amount per annum will be accepted in lieu of a commission.

For business talent, capability, and most untiring energy, the advertiser will refer to the highest and most influential names in this City; or, if necessary, security will be given. Address MERCHANT, Box No. 2,794 Post-Office.

CUMBERLAND COAL AND IRON COMPANY.

Office corner of Broadway and Wall-st.,
New-York, Feb. 16, 1859.

With improved facilities for mining and transportation this Company is prepared to contract with consumers and dealers for a supply of CUMBERLAND COAL for the season.

Under the new organization the equipment of the Company has been put in the most complete condition, and the Railroad has been extended to the celebrated ASTOR MINE.

The Coal from this mine has always ranked as the best Steaming Coal brought from the Cumberland region, and for the use of locomotive engines and steamers is unequaled.

The Coal will be shipped from the Company's wharves at Alexandria, Va., and Baltimore, Md. When requested, the Company will take up vessels free of charge, the extent of their business enabling them to do so on the most favorable terms.

NEW BOOKS.

THE MISSIONARY IN MADAGASCAR.

Published this day, with maps and illustrations from photographs, 8vo, uniform with "Livingstone's Travels," price $2 50.

THREE VISITS TO MADAGASCAR,
During the years 1853—1854—1856.
Including A JOURNEY TO THE CAPITAL.
With Notices of the Natural History of the Country, and of the present Civilization of the People.
By the Rev. William Ellis, F.H.S.
Author of "Polynesian Researches."

From the Athenæum.

The questions opened out by this book are of such public interest at present that we cannot err in predicting for it a success scarcely second to Dr. Livingstone's "Journal." We commend our readers, architectural, botanical, political or theological, to this excellent book.

From the London Christian Observer.

What Dr. Livingstone has done for Central America, Mr. Ellis has accomplished for Madagascar. He has brought to light the interior of an unknown region, and laid open a new field of vast importance for European and transatlantic enterprise.

From Chambers' Journal.

A work abounding in matter of extraordinary interest, and which, as a book of travel in an unknown land, must be considered second only in importance to that of Livingstone. Like this last-named personage, Ellis happily unites in himself the missionary, the man of science, and the accurate observer of social phenomena—quite the person, we should think, for spreading, with a knowledge of the Gospel, the ordinary arrangement of European civilization.

From the Literary Gazette.

Interesting throughout.

From the Illustrated London News.

For deeply affecting accounts of the simple piety and heroic fortitude of many of the Christians when exposed to slavery, torture and death, we must refer our readers to the volume itself. We feel assured that there are few of our readers who take an interest in human progress or the spread of Christianity in the world, who will not make themselves acquainted with the contents of this excellent volume.

From the London Spectator.

Few men were better qualified for this visit to Madagascar than Mr. Ellis.

Mr. Ellis is a zealous missionary—an active, resolute, handy, observant and well-informed man—and a lively, interesting, unaffected writer. In this handsome volume he gives us a very minute account of three several visits which he paid within the last five years to the little-known but very remarkable island of Madagascar. He took with him a camera, and his book is illustrated by a number of portraits and views of scenery of whose accuracy we are assured by their having been photographed on the spot. Mr. Ellis was accustomed to keep a journal, in which he noted down every evening the events of the day; and that journal, transmitted to England in the form of letters, furnished the materials for the present volume. It is a readable book. It takes us into untrodden fields; and its style is characterized by truthfulness, simplicity, and a pleasing but perfectly unobtrusive earnestness.

35 POUGHKEEPSIE BUILDING LOTS

(Forbus Hill Property)
AT AUCTION.
PEREMPTORY SALE.

A great sale of valuable building lots on Grand, Church, Bridge and Union sts., on MONDAY, the 21st day of March next, at 11 o'clock, in the morning, on the premises, by JAMES SERGEANT.

This property comprises 15 building lots on the west side of Grand st., between Union and Church sts., 40 feet front and rear by 112 to 160 feet deep. Also, 4 lots on the east side of Grand-st., between Union-st. and I. W. Swift's land, 38 feet front and rear by 107 feet deep. Also, 14 lots on the east side of Bridge-st., between Union and Church sts., 34 feet front and rear by 112 feet to 130 feet deep. Also, 2 lots on Union st., nearly opposite Mr. Spencer's residence, 34 feet front by 160 feet deep.

To capitalists, desirous of making a safe and remunerative investment—to builders, wishing desirable locations—and to gentlemen, seeking the grand and picturesque as eligible sites for Summer homes, the above property offers every inducement.

Its immediate proximity to the centre of the City, within a few yards of the Court-house, City Hall, Banks, Post-Office, hotels, churches and stores, render these lots all desirable for the erection of houses to rent; while a commanding view of the surrounding scenery, including the Hudson River in the landscape, furnishes those who are desirous of erecting country seats with a rare opportunity of selecting lots, which, for beauty of view and accessibility to all the arteries of travel, are unsurpassed. The property will be marked out corresponding with the maps, and each lot sold separately, to the highest bidder. Warrantee deeds given in all cases.

TERMS OF SALE—12½ per cent. of the purchase money payable on the day of sale; 37½ per cent. on the 1st day of May next; and the balance, 50 per cent. on Bond and Mortgage, at 7 per cent. interest, payable semi-annually, on 1, 2 or 3 years, to suit purchasers.

For further particulars apply to
J. H. RUTZER, Poughkeepsie,
Or JAS. SERGEANT, No 5 Market-st.

NOTICE TO TAX-PAYERS.—OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONERS OF TAXES AND ASSESSMENTS, No. 32 Chamber-st., New-York, Jan. 10, 1859. —Notice is hereby given that the Assessment Rolls of Real and Personal Estate in the City of New-York for the year 1859 are now open for public inspection, and will continue open until the 30th day of April next, inclusive. All tax-payers are earnestly requested to call and examine the same, in order that any errors in the assessments may be corrected. Also, all persons entitled by law to reduction of their assessments, by reason of being clergymen or for military services; and also literary and charitable institutions, by law exempt from taxation, are requested to make application for such reduction or exemption, previous to the closing of the rolls on said 30th day of April.

The following section of the act of April 16, 1857, is published for the information of tax-payers:

SEC. 12. During the time the books shall be open to public inspection, as hereinbefore provided, application may be made by any person considering himself aggrieved by the assessed valuation of his real or personal estate, to have the same corrected. If such application be made in relation to the assessed valuation of real estate, it must be made in writing, stating the ground of objections thereto, and thereupon the Commissioners shall examine into the complaint, and if, in their judgment, the assessment is erroneous, they shall cause the same to be corrected. If such application be made in relation to the assessed valuation of personal estate, the applicant shall be examined under oath by the said Commissioners or any of them, and if, in their judgment, the assessment is erroneous, they shall cause the same to be corrected, and declare their decision thereon within thirty days after such application shall have been made to them. No reduction shall be made by the Board of Supervisors of any assessment on real or personal estate imposed under this act, unless it shall appear, under oath or affirmation, that the party aggrieved was unable to attend within the period prescribed for the correction of taxes, by reason of sickness or absence from the City.—Laws of 1857, page 500.

A. J. WILLIAMSON,
J. W. BROWN,
Commissioners of Taxes and Assessments.

CENTRAL PARK UNPAID ASSESSMENTS— NOTICE TO OWNERS OF PROPERTY.—The owners of property assessed for Central Park, are hereby notified that the said assessments are expected to be paid on or before May 5, 1859, with 7 per cent. interest from Feb. 5, 1859, the date of confirmation by the Supreme Court; and unless said assessments are paid by May 5 next, the assessment list will be sent to the Clerk of Arrears, when interest will be charged at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum from the date of confirmation. The property assessed is embraced in the following limits, viz: All those pieces of land situated in the said City, bounded and described as follows: that is to say, on the north by the centre line of the blocks between 116th and 117th sts.; on the south by the centre line of the blocks between 41st and 42d sts.; on the east by the centre line of the blocks between 2d and 3d avs.; on the west by the centre line of the blocks between 10th and 11th avs.; and also all those certain other lots, pieces and parcels of land fronting on either side of the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th avs., between 116th and 130th sts.; and all those certain other lots, pieces and parcels of land fronting on either side of the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th avs. and Broadway, between 33d and 42d sts., as laid out on the map of the Commissioners, on file in this office.

CAUTION.—TO WATCH DEALERS AND JEWEL-ERS.—NEW-YORK, March, 1859.—J. & M. T. LEVITT, London, England, and No. 19 Maiden-lane, New-York, chronometer and watch manufacturers, hereby inform the trade that certain of the plain watches and movements of their own make, bearing their names and that of Morris Tobias, No. 31 Minories, London, imported into this country previously to the establishment of their agency, No. 19 Maiden-lane, under the management of J. H. BRADBURY, have been jeweled in this City in aqua-marine stones, contrary to the principles on which their fine movements and first-class watches have heretofore been constructed, such alterations being not alone injurious to the durability of the watches by reason of the softness of the aqua marines, but calculated to impair the faith of purchasers of these goods whose reliance has been uniformly placed on their quality. In order therefore that there may be no mistaking the genuine movements, purchasers will find on examination that all watches and movements finished at their manufactory in London, England, are jeweled in Rubies and Chrysolites only, and for future protection the certificate which accompanies each watch or movement will be countersigned by their sole agent, J. H. BRADBURY.

UNITED STATES MARSHAL'S SALE.— By virtue of an alias Fi. Fa., to me directed, issued from the Circuit Court of the United States for the Northern District of Illinois, dated the 6th day of December, A. D. 1858, upon a judgment for $47,436, rendered June 4, 1857, in favor of Richard P. Morgan, plaintiff, and against the Peoria and Oquawka Railroad Company, defendants, I have levied upon all the right, title and interest of said Company in and to the Peoria and Oquawka Railroad lying within the Northern District of Illinois, including the Oquawka branch of said Railroad, in the county of Henderson, and the railroad bridge of said defendant across the Illinois River at or opposite Peoria, and all the right, title and interest of the said Company in and to all side-tracks, dépôt-grounds, right of way, machine-shops, engine-houses and turn-tables, and all the other appurtenances thereunto belonging or used therewith, including the rolling stock of said road, consisting of passenger-cars and freight-cars, hand-cars and locomotive engines, which I shall expose to sale at the Court-house door, in the city of Peoria, at the hour of noon on the 26th day of March next.
C. N. PINE, U. S. Marshal Northern Dist. Illinois.

PARTITION SALE
OF 83
VERY DESIRABLE LOTS AND GORES,
ON THE 8TH AND 9TH AVENUES AND 54TH-STREET, NEAR THE CENTRAL PARK.

54TH-STREET IS GRADED, from the 8th to the 9th avenues, with curb and gutter stones set therein.

E. H. LUDLOW & CO. will sell at auction on WEDNESDAY, March 16, 1859, at 12 o'clock, at the MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE, New-York:

8TH-AVENUE—7 full lots and 1 gore lot, on the westerly side of the 8th-av., between 53d and 54th sts., including the southwest corner of 54th-st. and 8th-av.

54TH-STREET—24 full lots, being the entire front on the southerly side of 54th st., from the 8th to the 9th avs., with 24 gore lots in the rear of the above.

9TH-AVENUE—5 full lots and 1 gore lot on the easterly side of the 9th-av., between 53d and 54th sts., including the southwest corner of 54th st. and 9th-av.

9TH-AVENUE—2 full lots and 1 gore lot on the easterly side of the 9th-av., between 54th and 55th sts., including the northeast corner of 54th-st. and the 9th-av.

54TH-STREET—21 gore lots on the northerly side of 54th-st., being nearly the entire front from the 8th to the 9th avs.

All of the above-described lots are well located, and in a situation for immediate improvement, being in the vicinity of valuable buildings, of a most desirable grade, and free from rock, with sewers, Croton water and gas pipes in the adjacent avenue; and resolutions have been introduced in the City Councils to extend them through 54th st. from the 8th to the 9th avs.

60 per cent. of the purchase money can remain on mortgage for a term of years at 6 per cent. interest.

The title of the above-described property is now held direct from the original grantees, being one of the oldest on the Island of New-York, and belonging to the estate of Jacob Harsen, deceased.

Maps and other particulars can be obtained at the Auctioneer's, No. 14 Pine-st.

SUPERB COLLECTION OF PICTURES—Exceeding in quality any sale ever made in this country. The Foreign Pictures have been received from Messrs. Goupil & Co., of Paris, through their successor in this City. Among them will be the great picture valued at over $6,000. Also, a superb picture recently painted by Verboeckhoven, received per last steamer, said to exceed anything ever painted by this artist. Also, superb pictures by Beaume, Lafant de Mets, Muller, Rosseau, Isambert, De Dreux, Hillmacher, Gosse, Gendon, Brochart, Mozin, Van Schendel, Shayer, T. W. Edmonds, a master-piece by Schlessinger, &c, &c. Also, pictures of the great American artists, Durand, Church, Cole, Huntington, Kensitt, Gignoux, Cropsey, Rossiter, Wier, Hays, Cummings, Oddie, Mignot, Lang, Stearnes, F. O. C. Darley, Tait, Gifford, W. S. Mount, Eastman, Johnson, James M. Hart, Wm. Hart, Casilear, T. Hicks, G. H. Hall, Shattuck, Brown, Hubbard, Banvard, the first picture ever offered for sale in this country; Blauvelt, D. Johnson, Nichols, Annilli, Bellows, Dix, Lazarus, and others; T. H. Hinckley, of Boston! Lambdin, of Philadelphia; Durrie, of New-Haven, and others of his class. It will be seen by the above names that no sale of this character has ever been made in this City, where so many of the highest class of artists are associated. Every picture guaranteed. They are now on exhibition, day and evening, from 8 A. M. to 10 P. M., at the above rooms, with catalogues. Ladies and gentlemen are invited to examine this beautiful collection. Admission free.

FLORINDA, by WINTERHALTER,

Daniel S. Hough, Auctioneer—Office No. 220 Broadway.

IMPORTANT AUCTION NOTICE.—DANIEL S. FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, VERMONT CENTRAL RAILROAD COMPANY.—STATE OF VERMONT, IN CHANCERY, CHITTENDEN COUNTY.—Lawrence Brainerd and George M. Dexter, Surviving Trustees, et als., vs. The Vermont Central Railroad Company, et als.—Upon hearing in the above-entitled cause, upon bill, answer, traverse and testimony, it is ordered that said cause be referred to Charles Russell, of Burlington, as Special Master, and also to George S. Hale, of Boston, Massachusetts, as Special Commissioner, to act in that State, to ascertain and report, severally and respectively, as far as evidence shall be offered for that purpose, who may be at the time of the hearings before them, as hereinafter provided, the owners respectively of the first mortgage bonds, so called, of the Vermont Central Railroad, mentioned in the bill, the place of residence of such owners, and how much is due to each upon such bonds at the time of such hearings, or upon the interest thereon, and how much will grow due thereon, thereafter, and when; and report to this Court thereon, the names of said bondholders so presenting their claims and the several amounts thereof respectively.

And it is by said Court hereby further ordered that all owners and holders of said bonds so-called, do severally present their said claims upon, and in respect thereto, before said Master or Commissioner for allowance and report, at the time and place to be by them respectively appointed, as hereinafter provided, and in default thereof they will be subject to such further order as this Court may make in the premises, in respect to their said unpresented claims being barred, and otherwise.

And it is hereby further ordered, by said Court, that said Master (Russell) will also ascertain and report how much the value of the property, covered by said mortgage has been enhanced, since it came into the hands of, and has been held by, the Trustees under said mortgage, by an appropriation of the earnings of said property, covered by said mortgage, for that purpose; and whether the Trustees under said mortgage have been guilty of waste in respect to said property, and if so, which of said Trustees, and to what extent, and in what respect, and whether before or after the breach of the condition of said mortgage, by the non-payment of interest on said bonds so-called.

And it is further ordered that said Master and Commissioner respectively give notice of the time and place of said hearings before them, by causing notice thereof to be published once in each week for the space of ninety days before such time of hearing, in the following named newspapers to wit: The Burlington Weekly Times, the Vermont Watchman and State Journal, printed at Montpelier, Vt.; the Boston Daily Post, printed at Boston, in the State of Massachusetts; the New-York Daily Times, printed in the City of New-York; and the United States Gazette, printed in the city of Philadelphia.

And it is ordered that said cause stand over until the coming in of said reports for further directions therein without prejudice to either party.

And it is ordered, also, that either party may read, on the hearing before said Master and Commissioner, the evidence already on file in said cause, and may adduce such further evidence as may be material to the questions hereby referred.

Done in Court this 13th day of December, A. D. 1858.

TO THE STOCKHOLDERS OF THE WALL-STREET FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY—Notice is hereby given that the Comptroller of the State of New-York, having, in pursuance of section 24 of chapter 466 of the Laws of 1853, directed that in order to justify the continuance of the business of this Company, the officers thereof require the stockholders to pay the amount of a deficiency which, it appears to him, exists in its assets, on or before the 25th day of March instant, and that at the following resolutions have been passed by the Board of Directors:

Be it Resolved, That in accordance with a requisition, duly received from the Comptroller of the State of New-York, that the stockholders of this Company shall pay such an assessment on their respective stock as will make up the amount of capital as required by their charter; and that therefore an assessment be laid therefor upon the stockholders of this Company of three dollars for each share of twenty dollars held by them, and that the same be paid on or before the 25th day of March, 1859.

Be it further Resolved, That the Secretary transmit a copy of these resolutions to each stockholder and notify personally or by advertisement each stockholder, that such stockholder is required to pay a proportionate share of the amount necessary to make the capital of this Company equal to the amount fixed by the charter, and state in such notification the amount such stockholder is so called upon to contribute, and the time and place of payment thereof.

In accordance with the above resolutions, you are hereby notified that you are required to pay, at the office of the Company, your proportionate share of the amount necessary to make the capital of this Company equal to the amount fixed by the charter.

The Evening Post and Mrs. E. A. Burdell.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

May I, for the first time, beg leave to intrude upon your columns for a personal explanation. I have heretofore abstained from any attempt to correct the numberless rumors and false and idle tales with which my name has been connected, trusting that time would develop how unjustly I have been assailed and vilified, and that my retirement would at least protect me from further persecution. I have done nothing to provoke the renewed attacks to which, to pander to public curiosity and promote the sale of scurrilous literature, the Evening Post has recently lent itself. All I now do is to state that those articles are entirely untrue, and to ask your examination of the accompanying affidavits. These affidavits were forwarded to the Evening Post, the proprietors of which declined to publish them; although, to give my assailant an opportunity to reply and keep himself and his book before the public, they did publish a pretended card purporting to come from me, and which I had neither written, authorized or known of until publication.

Yours respectfully, EMMA A. BURDELL.

TUESDAY, March 8, 1859.

AFFIDAVIT OF MRS. BURDELL.

State of New-York, City and County of New-York, ss.: EMMA A. BURDELL, of said City, being duly sworn, says that some days ago her attention was attracted to a series of articles published in the Evening Post, entitled "Matrimonial Brokerage in the Metropolis," and purporting to narrate the substance of three several interviews between deponent and somebody whom the author of the articles in question is pleased to style C. Frank Fitzgerald, at the house of Mrs. Jessie Willis, in Forty-third street, New-York. Deponent further says that prior to the publication of said articles she had never seen or known Mrs. Jessie Willis; had never been in her house and did not know where she lived, and of course never met Mr. C. Frank Fitzgerald or any other man at the house of Mrs. Jessie Willis. That feeling injured and wronged at the continual persecution of herself by a portion of the newspaper Press of this City, and deeming it due to herself and to the public that so deliberate a falsehood as that contained in these articles should be exposed and refuted, deponent, on the 16th inst., in company with a friend, called at the residence of Mrs. Jessie Willis, at No. 18 West Forty-third-street for the purpose of investigating the matters contained in these articles of the cowardly slanderer who dares not disclose his name to the public; and deponent pronounces said articles to be in every particular false and maliciously libelous; that no part of the house of Mrs. Willis answers the description of this nameless author; there are no folding doors between the parlors, no books on spiritualism on the table, no room up stairs with a bed in one corner, and a grate for a fire—no back entrance; in short, the whole of the interior of said house is widely different from the one described by the author of the articles in question. That Mrs. Willis very promptly gave to deponent the affidavit hereto annexed, and which affidavit is true in all its parts.

Deponent further says that she has this morning seen in the Evening Post, of the 16th inst., what purports to be a card from Emma A. Burdell, declaring said articles to be "an entire fabrication;" that she has neither written or sent, or authorized to be sent, any such, or any card whatever to the Evening Post, and if the conductors of said paper have any such card in their possession it is a forgery, and probably prepared by the author of "Matrimonial Brokerage in the Metropolis;" but deponent now declares said articles to be not only "an entire fabrication," but a base and malicious libel. EMMA A. BURDELL.

Subscribed and sworn this 18th day of February, 1859, before me, C. MINOR,
Commissioner of Deeds.

AFFIDAVIT OF MRS. WILLIS.

State of New-York, City and County of New-York, ss.—JESSIE WILLIS, of No. 18 West Forty-third-street, in the City of New-York, being duly sworn, makes oath and deposes that she resides at No. 18 West Forty-third-street aforesaid, and has resided at the said place since the 15th day of May last past; that she has seen the articles published in the New-York Evening Post, entitled "Matrimonial Brokerage in the Metropolis," and purporting to give a narrative of three several interviews between Mrs. Cunningham Burdell and a person represented as C. Frank Fitzgerald, of St. Louis, at the house of deponent. Deponent further says that before the 16th inst. she had no acquaintance whatever with Mrs. Cunningham Burdell; that she never saw her at any place; that she was never in the house or office of deponent to her knowledge; that she never had any interview with any gentleman at said house or office, and that said articles are in all of their material features wholly false, and a groundless and malicious fabrication. MRS. JESSIE WILLIS.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 17th day of February, 1859. HENRY S. MOORE,
Commissioner of Deeds.

[The above communication and affidavits have been in type several days, but have been crowded out by the pressure of advertisements and news.]

Mr. S. D. Beekman's Explanation of his Connection with the Sickles Case.

NEW-YORK, Saturday, March 12, 1859.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

In Monday's issue of your paper there are several very erroneous statements calculated to do my character great injury, and, therefore, I take this means of stating the truth.

A paragraph has been going the rounds of the papers for a fortnight now, stating that a Mr. B., of New-York, was violently in love with Mrs. SICKLES during the session of Congress a year ago, &c., &c., which I forbore to notice for several reasons, hoping that as only the initial of my name was used that it would attract but little attention at least in New-York, and I would be spared the mortification of having my name associated in print with those of the actors in this tragedy, and at the same time knowing that my friends in Washington, whose good opinion I care to possess, would at once pronounce it ridiculous. But since another has appeared still more false and injurious, it is my duty to answer it in full.

Among the few acquaintances that I regretted making in Washington was that of a Mr. ——, a clerk in the Interior Department, with whom I became quite intimate by meeting him frequently with his wife at Mr. SICKLES' house. Formerly of Albany he knew my parents and apparently took a warm interest in me always, but very soon as this sequel discloses, I found him to be, though a man in years beyond the meridian of life, in honor far beyond its faintest twilight.

He met me one evening at Willard's Hotel and took me aside so that we could be unheard by the bystanders, and opened the subject of Mr. KEY's attentions to Mrs. SICKLES, in the most confidential tone, making several very indelicate remarks about Mrs. SICKLES, and asking my opinion of her on several points.

Although I talked quite guardedly even to him, friend that I thought he was, who had expressed himself very openly and in a manner calculated to injure any lady provided I had given his remarks circulation, unluckily I uttered several trifling jokes about the female sex in general, and about her, and to my great surprise I was soon informed by Mr. SICKLES himself in his own house, that he had received a written statement of specific calumnies against his wife and Mr. KEY, as circulated by me publicly, when the only person that I had ever uttered a syllable to that could by the liveliest imagination or the most ingenious perversion, be construed into anything derogatory to Mrs. SICKLES was this man. Nor did Mr. KEY's attentions to Mrs. SICKLES awaken any suspicion of any improper intimacy, in my mind, until Mr. —— called my attention to the subject, and then I did not give it scarce a moment's thought. As to being "drunk" at the time, this is a gratuitous falsehood, originating, undoubtedly, from no one but an inveterate enemy. I had not been on any spree at all, nor was I in the habit of drinking but very moderately, and then nearly always in the society of ladies at receptions and parties.

One evening Mrs. SICKLES sent me a note desiring to see me particularly at 7 o'clock. I called, and found Mrs. BAGIOLI and a young man, a reporter in the House of Representatives, seated in the parlor. Mrs. BAGIOLI then informed me for what Mrs. SICKLES desired to see me. Mr. SICKLES soon made his appearance, and asked what I had said about his wife in connection with Mr. KEY's name. And I told him, as I have stated, nothing but trifling jokes, that I had noticed a flirtation going on, that I had uttered no charges, no facts, no inferences even, injurious to Mrs. SICKLES, but merely generalities, without the slightest design or malice, and these to no one but ——, whom I regarded as a true friend and almost as an inmate of his household, so frequently was he there. He asked me who his informant was, but not the charges. Excited and enraged beyond control, I told Mr. SICKLES, on the impulse of the moment, that what I had said I had said, and was personally responsible for, and left the house, which I never entered afterwards.

In a day or so a personal friend of mine and Mr. KEY called on me, and handed me a note from Mr. KEY, demanding if I was responsible for the vile calumnies that Mr. —— attributed to me. I immediately answered the note, stating that they were pure fabrications, falsehoods. This was all that ever passed between Mr. KEY and myself. I made no retraction, for I had none to make. I have a copy of the charges that Mr. —— imputed to me now in my possession, which was handed to me at the same time as the note, and they are so serious and enormous that no one but a lunatic could think of mentioning them, let alone giving them public circulation, even if he possessed the most undoubted proofs of their truth. No one endowed with one grain of forethought could ever be so imprudent, especially in Washington.

One evening I met Mr. —— at Willard's Hotel, and once in the office I rushed towards him with a cane in my hand, intending to apply it to him promptly, at the same time bestowing several just but rather harsh epithets upon him; but he plead so winningly for me to go out on the street and adjust the matter that I went, desirous of keeping the affair for Mr. SICKLES' sake as private as possible, who had been very kind to me, and I there repeated my compliments, and again received so many soft entreaties to be calm and he would settle the matter all satisfactorily. I then sent for a friend, who told —— that he had grossly wronged me; he then said that he would not injure my character for anything, that he must have been beside himself, &c., and solemnly promised to retract everything on paper the next day, which he did not do, nor meet me according to promise. Then I sent him a note; he answered it, making another engagement, which he did not keep, and so it went on repeatedly, promising and as often breaking his promises, until I was obliged to return suddenly to New-York to attend to family affairs without seeing ——.

I would have challenged him, but I considered that it would be degrading myself to too low a degree to have it known in Washington society that I had condescended to send a challenge to an object (that I ascertained soon, to my astonishment) who was despised by those that I did not think fit companions for myself.

In the meanwhile I sent Mr. SICKLES an ample apology, explaining the matter as here stated, although Mr. SICKLES did not demand it.

Very Respectfully,
STEPHEN D. BEEKMAN, JR., New-York.

The French Emperor and War.

From the European Times.

The actions of a man of this kind baffle all calculation. A believer in destiny, like his uncle, he is not swayed by the motives which influence ordinary mortals. You cannot guage his conduct as you would that of a person who weighs the bearings of every question, and reckons all the chances of success and failure. And, in truth, his previous career has been so marvellous in its phases that his predilection for the supernatural and the incalculable may be pardoned. Visions of military glory rise before his heated imagination, and he is impressed with the belief that to him is confided the task of remodeling the map of Europe. We receive, therefore, without distrust the statement that he will take the field in person with CANROBERT for his subaltern, and the probability is that we are on the verge of a war the direst and bloodiest which has ever stained the annals of modern Europe. There is one slight satisfaction, one gleam of sunshine in the dark picture—it cannot last long. Two or three campaigns, at the most, must decide the issue, and bring the belligerents to their last gasp. Russia, the greatest military power in Europe, was reduced to the verge of ruin, only recently, by two campaigns, and France was exhausted, although she was one of the victors.

Two men, William Whatley and Dr. P. H. Brassel, have of late made a business of going into the counties of Georgia, examining the county records to find what farmer has given in too low an estimate of his property, and then informing, getting $10 for every $100 that the estimates were too low. They made $40,000 out of one county—Cobb—in this way.

TUESDAY, March 15—P. M.

The Stock Exchange closed this afternoon somewhat unsettled in tone and at prices varying but slightly from the closing sales of Monday. The speculative sellers continue to predominate, but were less confident in their movements to-day, owing to the general look of the market against any important further decline at present. The fact seems to be that whenever prices yield 1@2 ⅌ cent., after a pretty stiff market, the short sales are redoubled at the lower point, and the fresh contracts accumulate out of all proportion to the supply of Stock on the Street, when up goes the market again. This has been the case frequently of late on the Western shares, and the free sales of several descriptions on the fall of Saturday and Monday seem now to promise no exception to the remark. The contracts were further multiplied to-day, without effecting a further decline, and some surprise, if not disappointment, was felt this morning that prices held so steady after the very heavy closing of Monday afternoon. New-York Central was made to work in sympathy with the Western list, and while the cash stock was firm at 79⅝, time bargains were made at from 79¼@79½ ⅌ cent. Erie Shares lost part of the advance of yesterday, and parties who then refused to contract at 12 ⅌ cent. were sellers at 11¼@⅜ ⅌ cent. Panama was steady at 117, and Pacific Mail at 76½@76¾@77 ⅌ cent. Reading closed firm, at 48⅜ ⅌ cent. Illinois Central shares fell off to 68¼ ⅌ cent., cash, or for the opening of transfers, and 67½ seller 60 days. The general Share list at the close this afternoon, as remarked at the outset of this report, was steady in prices, but unsettled in the temper of the dealings.

In the new Federal Stock there was more activity, and the sales amount to $350,000 at 103¾ ⅌ cent., and that price bid for more at the close. In State Stocks, also, there was a firmer feeling, particularly for Missouris, the announcement being made by telegraph from St. Louis that the present Legislature have voted down all the movements to increase the State aid to the Railways at the present session. The stock closed at 85⅝; Tennessees 91 and Virginias 98 ⅌ cent. In Railway Bonds, business was done in Illinois Central Constructions at 90¼ and Free Lands at 91¼ ⅌ cent. We understand that the German holders of the Erie Second Mortgage, through their Frankfort Committee, have sent forward $470,000 for extension five years under the proposed terms of the New-York management. In reference to the disputed California State Bonds, a Committee of the Stock Exchange reported the following facts to day.

"In January, 1858, $22 251 of warrants were forwarded through Messrs. WELLS, FARGO & Co., examined by the State Treasurer and regularly funded. In the ensuing October it was discovered that these warrants were a portion of an amount for which bonds had been previously issued, and for that reason the State Treasurer refuses to pay the coupons of the bonds. It is not claimed by the State Treasurer that their bonds were stolen. He admits that he issued them himself, and whatever blame there is in the matter attaches to the State of California. It appears that the fraud was not discovered until four months after the sale of the bonds. In view of the above facts, your Committee are of opinion that the last buyers have no remedy as against the broker from whom they purchased, and therefore recommend that their complaint be dismissed. The Committee have been unable to obtain a complete list of bonds issued as above stated, but report the following numbers as part of the same, viz: 259 to 268, both inclusive, and 1360, 1361, 1362, 1363, 1366, 1368, 1369."

There was a disposition in particular quarters this forenoon to tighten the rates for money, on temporary loan, owing to the free demand noticed yesterday for account of the new Federal Stock, the last payments on which were due in course this day. Some further preliminary arrangements were understood to have been made at Bank, and with private lenders, to complete these payments, but these were cancelled later in the day, in consequence of a countermanding dispatch from Washington, to the effect that the Secretary will postpone $1,500 000 (or the remainder now due on the $10,000,000 of the 24th January) until mid-Summer, if agreeable, at the option of the takers. This averts all further inward payments at New-York for the present, the balance this afternoon being up to $9,302,735. At the close of business Money was again quite easy, and some demand loans were made among the brokers as low as 4 ⅌ cent. The receipts of the Sub-Treasury for the day were $223,001, of which $177,705 on account of the Loan of Jan. 24, and the payments $121,524. The export demand for Bullion for the Europa to-morrow, as far as we are advised, reaches $540,000. Altogether the probability seems to be that the Bank Average, on the Specie line, has about touched its minimum, and the Sub-Treasury its maximum for the present. Discounts to-day are much the same as last week. Short Bills continue comparatively scarce at 5 ⅌ cent. for select names. A number of the prominent banking firms in the Foreign and New-Orleans Exchanges this season are being drawn upon from the Cotton ports almost exclusively at sight, and very short sight, instead of 60 days, as customary at this season of the year. The sales of Cotton at New-Orleans alone last week foot up nearly a hundred thousand bales, and one firm in this City had advice by telegraph that they were drawn upon for a million of dollars at sight, by a single mail, to reimburse for purchases of English bills. We have rather an interesting packet this week, the Europa sailing direct to-morrow, in the way of Exchange. The remittances are understood to be unusually large, the demand being met with uniform freedom at 109¾ at 60 days sight, and 110¼ at 3 days sight, by Messrs. BROWN, BROTHERS & Co., and yesterday and this morning by Messrs. DUNCAN, SHERMAN & Co., and others were free sellers on the same terms. The market left off steady. Francs were f.5.3¾@f.5.12. These large transactions will tend, on steamer day, to further relax the supply of Money on the Street. The Exports of Cotton from the Southern ports this week we understand to be 114,000 bales.

The New-York books for subscription to the Chicago Loan and Trust Company, Capital $1,000,000, are now opened at the Bank of the Republic. A pamphlet copy of the charter, which is a liberal, though well-guarded one, and the names and mercantile standing and responsibility of managers, may be had on application to either the President or Cashier of the Bank of the Republic. The authorized rate of interest in Illinois is 10 ⅌ cent. ⅌ annum.

The following is the comparative statement of Exports (exclusive of specie) from New-York to Foreign Ports for the week and since Jan. 1:

For the week	$1,880,354	$1,505,968	$1,494,733

The movements in Stocks and Money during the past two weeks, Messrs. DECOPPET & Co., in their circular for the Europa, refer to thus:

"The buoyancy and activity in the Stock Market, which we noticed in our circular of 1st inst., gave way to a reaction on Railroad Shares, which does not yet seem to have run its course. The market for State Stocks and Railroad Bonds has been irregular, some descriptions having advanced, whilst others have declined. The tenor of the political news received from Europe during the last two weeks has not been sufficiently decisive to materially affect the movements of our Stock Exchange. State Stocks—Virginia 6s have risen 1⅛; Tennessee 6s, ⅝, and Indiana 5s, ½ ⅌ cent. Missouri 6s have declined ⅝, and California 7s 2½ ⅌ cent. The fall on the last named is owing to the refusal by the State to pay the interest on a small amount of bonds of 1858, alleged to have been issued on improper warrants. Government 5s of 1874 have been in better demand, at a slight advance; the closing quotation is 103¾. City and County Bonds.—Transactions have been on a moderate scale, and principally in Brooklyn 6s, Chicago Water Loan 6s and St. Louis City 6s, without change in prices. We also note sales of Louisville 6s (Railroad) at a slight decline, of Memphis 6s at 68, and of Milwaukee City Municipal 7s at 70, the sellers retaining the overdue Coupons. Railroad Bonds—Have been inactive, but prices for the greater part have advanced. Illinois Central Construction 7s have advanced 1¼ ⅌ cent.; do. Freeland, ½; Michigan Central 8s, ½; Michigan Southern, 1st mort., 1; Erie 2d mort., ¾ and Erie 4th mort., 2 ⅌ cent. The unsecured bonds of the Erie Railroad have declined 2½@3 and Galena and Chicago, 1st mort., ½ ⅌ cent. There have been sales of Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, 1st mortgage, at 89; an advance of 1 ⅌ cent.; of Hannibal and St. Joseph 7s at 73, an advance of 3⅌ cent., and of Toledo, Norwalk and Cleveland 1st Mortgage, at 78; a decline of 2 ⅌ cent. Railroad Shares—The speculative shares are generally lower. The decline is 3 ⅌ cent. on Chicago and Rock Island; 3¾ on Cleveland and Toledo; 2 on Erie; 2⅞ on Galena and Chicago; 1¾ on Illinois Central; 3½ on Michigan Southern; 1¼ on Michigan Central; 3¾ on Milwaukee and Mississippi; 1⅞ on New-York Central; ¾ on Panama, and 1⅞ ⅌ cent. on Reading. Sales of Little Miami have taken place at 87½@88; of Indianapolis and Cincinnati, at 59; of Stonington at 63, and of Harlem preferred at 40@38¾. Money is still more abundant; short loans, 4@5; indorsed paper, 5½@7 ⅌ cent. ⅌ annum. Exchange on Europe—Except with Banker's bills, the market has been but poorly supplied. The principal sales of Sterling have been at 109½@109⅞; and of Francs, at f.5.12½."

The Boston Post, of this morning, remarks:

"In business matters, also, everything is well and easy; and, in fine, there is very little for the financial observer to write about in this market. The only item worth noticing, indeed, is the continued decline of our bank specie, which on Saturday was but little more than six millions, showing a falling off of nearly three and a half millions from the maximum holding of 1858. Money continues to be tolerably active at 6 ⅌ cent., though it can be had on call at 5, by certain favored people. New-York funds have recently been in less urgent demand in State-street, but the balance is strongly against this city. For all we can perceive, the adverse tide is likely to continue for some time longer."

GENERAL MARKETS.

NEW-YORK, Tuesday, March 15, 1859—6 P. M.

The reported receipts of the principal kinds of Produce since our last have been: 82 bbls. Ashes; 11,395 bbls. and 134 sacks Flour; 2,896 bushels Oats; 1,039 pkgs. Provisions, and 50 bbls. Whisky.

ASHES—Pots are in demand at $5 75 ⅌ 100 lbs. Pearls are quiet and depressed at $5 75 ⅌ 100 lbs.

COFFEE—Has been more sought after to-day, sales having been made of 750 bags Java, part at 15c.; 50 bags Jamaica, at 11¾c.; 400 bags Rio, at 11⅜c.; 600 bags Rio, (skimmings,) at 10¾c.; and 70 bags St. Domingo, at 9¾c., ⅌ lb. Stock of all kinds in first hands this morning, 80,733 packages,—including, according to Messrs. WM. SCOTT & SON, 43,500 mats and 5,025 bags Java; 16,458 bags Rio; 6,880 bags Maracaibo; 3,000 bags St. Domingo; 2,970 bags Laguayra; 2,500 bags Manilla; and 400 bags Jamaica.

COTTON—Has been quite dull to-day, sales having been confined to 600 bales, at former rates.

DRY GOODS—We have been informed that the Bates' Mills Company have disposed of their entire stock of Cottonades to one of the leading jobbing houses of this City. This extensive sale will be likely to influence the market favorably for holders of such goods.

DYEWOODS—The week's business Messrs. BARTON & STACKER notice thus: "Dullness has been the prevailing characteristic in this branch of trade, Woods of all descriptions being in limited demand. Exporters are almost entirely out of the market, and the home trade is buying in comparatively small lots. Although the stock can by no means be called large, it is fully sufficient for present purposes. It is but fair to add, that the receipts are light and but little is reported on the way. This is particularly true as regards Fustic, and holders are not pressing sales. The following parcels have changed hands: 95 tons St. Domingo Logwood, at $14 37½; about 140 do. at $14 50; and 200 tons Coastwood, at $26@$27 50 on time."

FISH—Dry Cod are less freely offered, and are in demand, at $3 75@$4 25 ⅌ cwt. Mackerel finds ready buyers, including No. 1 Massachusetts, at $16@$16 25; and No. 3 do., do., at $10 ⅌ barrel. Herring are in limited request at languid prices.

FLOUR AND MEAL—The market is quiet to day for State and Western Flour. The demand is restricted, the home trade being the principal buyers. These purchase only such lots as they need immediately. Speculators are not disposed to operate freely at prevailing rates. Prices exhibit no important changes. Sales 7,000 barrels, in lots, within our revised range.

Unsound State, ⅌ bbl.	4 20@ 5 10
Superfine State	5 50@ 5 80
Extra State	6 50@ 6 80
Superfine Western	5 60@ 5 95
Fancy Ohio	6 00@ 6 10
Extra Indiana and Michigan	6 60@ 7 50
Extra Ohio	6 65@ 7 60
Fancy Genesee	6 80@ 6 90
Extra Genesee	7 00@ 8 00
Low to very choice Extra Missouri	7 20@ 8 75

Southern Flour is very moderately inquired for at uniform quotations. Sales to day, 1,200 barrels, in lots, at $6 25@$6 75 for mixed and straight brands; and $6 80@$8 75 for low fancy to choice extra brands, ⅌ bbl. Canadian has been offered and purchased, sparingly, at $6 70@$7 50 for extra brands ⅌ bbl. Rye Flour is inactive, at $3 65@$4 25 for fine to superfine ⅌ bbl. Corn Meal is in request, at $3 75 @$3 85 for Jersey; $4 35@$4 40 for Brandywine, ⅌ bbl.; and $19 75@$20 for the latter, in puncheons.

FOREIGN LIQUORS—Are in pretty good demand at uniform quotations.

GRAIN—Wheat is in demand, and is quoted firm; sales to-day 25,000 bushels, including fair White Michigan, at $1 60; poor to good mixed Western, at $1 37 @$1 46; unsound Chicago Spring, at $1 10; and mixed Long Island, at $1 60 ⅌ bushel. Corn is unsettled; the advanced prices claimed by holders tend to check business; the inquiry is less animated; sales have been reported of small lots, at 86c.@91c. for new White and Yellow Jersey and Southern; and (nominally) 90c.@91c. for prime to choice old mixed Western, ⅌ bush. Rye is quiet and languid at 87c.@91c. as extremes, ⅌ bush. Barley is plenty and heavy. The nominal range, for all descriptions, is from 65c.@85c. for inferior to prime, ⅌ bush. Sales have been reported of 3,000 bush. very good State, at about 83c. ⅌ bush. Oats are in moderate request, at old figures. Canadian, 61c.@63c.; Western, 60c.@63c.; State, at 48c.@54c., ⅌ bushel. Mr. EDWARD BILL notices the fortnight's business in the principal kinds of Breadstuffs, thus: "Various causes combined have served to make this a marked year in the Breadstuff business. The past two years have been deficient of crop, particularly the last one, and with only a moderate home demand, and an almost total suspension of the export trade to England, prices of Flour have advanced, since last November, about $2 ⅌ bbl., and on Wheat about 30c. ⅌ bushel. This has been the result of a speculative feeling originating at the West, and conducted there and here chiefly on account of interests located there—founded, it is said, on the assumption that the surplus of former years is gone, and that the crop of the last is quite deficient. So far the receipts at the principal Western towns through the Winter have been exceedingly light, and present prospects are, that our supplies, on the resumption of canal navigation, will be much less than usual. Future prices will, of course, depend upon the result of these calculations. The stock here in store, which was large at the close, is gradually reducing. In the fortnight past, the Flour trade has been buoyant, with some advance, closing quiet but firm. Wheat has continued to improve in value, with a good local and milling demand, and holders seem sanguine of still higher rates. Indian Corn is firmly held. The stock of Barley is large, and increased by the late arrivals from California. Rye is steady, with moderate sales."

The following is a statement of the exports of the principal kinds of Breadstuffs, from the Atlantic ports of the United States, since Sep. 1, 1858:

NAVAL STORES—Crude Turpentine has been purchased during the week to the extent of 7,000 bbls., mainly at $3 67½ ⅌ 280 lbs. Receipts 4,374 bbls. Stock very light. Spirits Turpentine has arrived sparingly, while it has been in brisk demand at improved prices. Week's receipts 1,193 bbls. Week's sales 5,000 bbls., in lots, at 50c.@53c., closing at 52c.@53c. ⅌ gallon. Stock about 5,000 bbls. Tar has been quiet. There have been 1,048 bbls. received, and 1,560 bbls. sold at $2 50@$2 75 ⅌ bbl. The week's movements in Resin, Messrs. BARTON & STOCKER notice thus: "Common Resin has been sustained in price, and a fair business has been done. Nearly all the lots sold have been to arrive, necessarily, since the stock here is very light. At the close more firmness was perceptible. The medium and fine grades are essentially unchanged, although there is less doing than at our last report. Holders are not pressing sales, and buyers move but slowly. Sales are reported of 14,000 bbls. Common, in lots, on the spot and to arrive, (principally the latter,) at $1 71@$1 75; 300 bbls. low No. 1 at $2 87½; 500 good do. at $5 37½; 266 do. do. at $5 62½. Week's receipts of Resin, 13,231 bbls.

PROVISIONS—Pork is more inquired for, and is somewhat firmer. Sales have been reported since our last of 1,100 bbls., in lots, at $18 40@$18 50 for New Mess; $17 75@$17 87½ for Old Mess; and $13 25@$13 35 for Prime, ⅌ bbl. Cut Meats are in limited request, including Hams, at 8½c.@9¼c., and Shoulders at 6¾c.@7c. ⅌ lb. Bacon is quiet, at from 8¾c.@10¾c. ⅌ lb. Lard is pretty brisk and firm; sales 800 tcs. and bbls., in lots, at chiefly 11⅞c.@12c. ⅌ lb. Beef is moderately inquired for, at buoyant prices; sales to-day, 400 bbls., in lots, at $9 @$9 50 for repacked Western Mess; $12 50@$13 for extra do.; $8 50@$9 62½ for Country Mess; $6 75@$7 50 for do. Prime, ⅌ bbl.; Prime Mess Beef, $17@$20 ⅌ tc. Beef Hams, $14 50@$17 75 ⅌ bbl. Butter continues in slack demand at 11c.@18c. for Ohio; 16c.@24c. for common to good State, and 25c.@27c. for prime to choice State, ⅌ lb. Cheese is selling at 8c.@11c., ⅌ lb.

RICE—Sales have been reported to-day of 1,100 trcs., in lots, at $3 75@$4 25 ⅌ 100 lbs.

SUGARS—The market exhibits no remarkable alteration—sales having been reported of 365 hhds. New-Orleans and Cuba, mainly new-Orleans, at 6⅛c.@7⅝c.; 128 hhds. Cuba, in bond, at 6¾c.; 40 hhds. Melado, on private terms.

TALLOW—The week's business Messrs. KNIGHT & SON refer to thus: "The amount of business done in this article for the past week has been moderate, as chandlers have purchased but sparingly. The market, however, has not given way, and sales amount in all to 75,000 lbs., at 10¾c. The stock on hand is not large."

TEAS—Continue in active demand at buoyant prices.

TOBACCO—A fair demand prevails for all descriptions at full prices. Sales since Friday last: 87 hhds. Kentucky, 10¾c.; 105 bbls. Havana, 32@38c.; 92 cases Seed Leaf, 13c.@22c.; 21 cas. Florida, 12c.@20c. ⅌ lb.

Miscellaneous.

The steamtug Union, formerly engaged in this harbor, sailed for Galveston March 2, made a fair run through the night, and on the 3d had a fresh breeze from E. S. E., (with heavy sea,) which increased to a gale. Put into the Delaware Breakwater for a harbor. Got under way again 4th, and had fine easterly weather (except for seven hours from N. W.) until 6th, at night, when the lightship off Frying Pan Shoals bore S. W. 25 miles, when she encountered a perfect gale, the wind shifting to all points of the compass, and very heavy sea running. The vessel labored heavily, and leaked considerably. At 1 A. M., passed the light ship, stood in for a harbor, and came to with both anchors down, when she rode it out until daylight, then weighed one anchor, and in getting the other, the capstan jumped loose and seriously hurt one man, Chas. R. Hoogland. He has since recovered, and is on duty. After using every effort, were compelled to slip the hawser, and get inside, as the sea was rapidly rising; could not possibly have floated two hours longer. Arrived at Smithville and remained there until the 9th, when she again started and arrived at Savannah on the 13th, coaled, and started again 14th for Galveston.

The hull and machinery of the steamship Black Warrior, wrecked on Rockaway Beach, was to-day (Tuesday) sold at public auction, and purchased by Messrs. Hamill Brothers, for $350.

A SLAVER ASHORE.—Advices from Key West, to the 6th of March, state that the schooner Hermitage, Atwill, arrived that morning from Garden Key, with the officers and crew of a slave brig ashore on the Marquesas Shoal, upon which she had been run to destroy the evidence of a successful slave-trip. The men would leave for Havana in the Isabel, unless the United States saw fit to arrest them. The brig's name is Martha Regan, a hermaphrodite, about 250 tons burden, 4 years old, Eastern built. She had a slave deck, and a large quantity of water-casks and some provisions. She had doubtless put some hundred slaves ashore lately on the Cuban coast.

The North German Lloyd's Steamship Weser, which was obliged to return to Cork for repairs in December last, on her first voyage from Bremen to this port, was advertised to leave Cork for New-York on or about the first of March, and is consequently now due.

Commodore Vanderbilt will again send the Vanderbilt and North Star to Havre. The first will leave in April.
